This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THE important collection of manuscripts described in this volume was accumulated by Dr Thomas Gale and his eldest son Roger Gale. Dr Thomas Gale, born in 1635 or 1636, was successively Regius Professor of Greek in the University (1672), High Master of St Paul's School (1672) and Dean of York (1697). He died in 1702.

Roger Gale, born in 1672, became Scholar of Trinity in 1693 and Fellow in 1697, graduating as B.A. in 1694 and M.A. in 1698. He was at various times in Parliament and held an appointment under Government. He died in 1744.

The elder Gale's publications were of considerable merit and importance. They included the Opuscula Mythologica, the Scriptores Historiae Anglicanae xv, and some works of Johannes Scotus Erigena. Those of Roger were chiefly confined to occasional tracts on subjects of archaeological interest[1]. Both father and son were enthusiastic antiquaries, and the latter bequeathed a collection of coins to the University Library.

A far more important benefaction, however, was his presentation of the Gale manuscripts to Trinity College. In 1697, on leaving London, Dr Thomas Gale presented his Oriental collection; and in 1738 Roger Gale gave the manuscripts now to be described. The letter in which he offered this magnificent gift to the Society is preserved in a small volume in Class O. It runs as follows:

SCRUTON NEAR BEDALE,
July y^e 21^st^ 1738.

GENTLEMEN,

The great respect and esteem that I retain for your Society, of which I once had the honor of being a Member, and my inclination to preserve near Five Hundred Volumes MS^t^, now in my possession, from being some time or other disperst or perhaps lost, have induced me to make a Present of them to your Library, where I hope they will not only be more secure but of greater service to the Public than in any private hand.

I desire therefore your acceptance of them for the use of the College, and that they may be reposited all together in one of the Classes of your Library, and that you will be pleased to give such orders for their safety as you may judge necessary and convenient. In such a Collection there must be some that may be lookt upon as trifles, but when you examin the whole, I am confident you will allow more of them to be of value, and some of them to be very rare and curious.

I have allready sent them away by the Richmond Carrier, who will leave them next Wednesday at the Black Bull in Huntington, directed to Dr Knight at Bluntisham, the Carriage p^d^ so farr. The Dr has promised me to take care of their conveyance to Cambridge and if he is now at home will not neglect to perform it immediately.

I am

Gentlemen,

Your most obedient humble servant,

R. GALE.

The books thus generously offered arrived soon afterwards accompanied by a Catalogue; and it appears that shortly after their arrival some official of the College (most probably Sandys Hutchinson, the then Librarian) wrote to Roger Gale to say that for the most part the manuscripts corresponded with the Catalogue, but that there were three volumes he could not find, and some 23 or 24 which were not enumerated in the Catalogue. Mr Gale's answer to this letter is preserved in one of the Catalogues in Class O, and from this I copy it;

SCRUTON,
Octob. 15th, 1738.

S^{r},

In answer to yours of the 6th which came to me by the last Post, I am glad the MS^{ts} I sent to the Library correspond so well with the Catalogue, for I must own I did not compare them before I putt them up for the Carriage, and the difference between them I can account for except in one particular.

Fol.[1] 40. Statutes of the Cathedral Church of York. This is a very incorrect transcript, with several remarks upon it from a private hand.

Fol. 342. Tho. Galeei Observationes in Aristotelem de re Poeticâ, Stephanum de Urbibus, &c. not so compleat and correct as to be layd open to publick view, therefore was with the former set back by me.

Fol. 354. Pardons, Assumption of our Lady, etc. I know not what is become of it, if I find it, it shall be sent[2].

The Rest are some that came to my hands when I lived in London, and were never entered into the Catalogue, except Bedae Historia Interfol. cum notis MS^{ts} 2 Vol. 4to, which was put up with the others by oversight, but as the MS^{t} notes may in some measure intitle it to their Company, he may stay with them.

The Physico-Theologicall discourse concerning the Great and Small-pox[3] was sent me by the Author to gett it printed, but is so whimsical a piece, and wrote in so obscure and hard a Style, that even Curl would not venture upon it. I am much obliged to the Master and other friends that are pleased to remember me, and desire my best services may be acceptable to them, and yourself, who am, S^{r} your most obliged humble Servant,

R. GALE.

In these two letters is comprised all that I know of the history of the presentation of the Gale manuscripts to the College. The books are placed in Class O near the south-eastern angle of the Library, where they occupy nine shelves (numbered 1–5, 7–10). The number of volumes catalogued by Gale was 430. Out of this total, however, two volumes were kept back by him, as we have seen; and, moreover, three numbers (9, 191, 265) are accidentally omitted in the numeration. This numeration has been continued up to 454 by the College Librarian, the added volumes being those referred to in Gale's second letter as having come into his possession when he lived in London. A few books have been placed at various times in Class O[1], which have no connexion with Gale.

[1] i.e. volume in folio size numbered 40.
[2] It is O. 9. 1. [3] O. 2. 55.

A catalogue of the manuscripts in possession of Dr Thomas Gale had been published about forty years before the date of Roger Gale's gift. It forms part of Bernard's great Catalogi MStorum Angliae et Hiberniae (1697: Vol. II. pp. 185–195). A few words may be said about this, for it is one of the most obscurely constructed catalogues in Bernard's publication. Four hundred and ninety-one 'Libri' are enumerated, and these are divided into three sections, Libri Graeci (1–151), Libri Graeci et Latini (152–355), Libri Orientales (356–461)[2].

Only the first and second of these sections concern us. Taking first the Libri Graeci, 151 in number, I have to point out that the whole of these are comprised,—and must always have been comprised—in just thirty-one volumes. In other words, separate articles have been catalogued as volumes; though not by any means in all cases. To a less extent, this is also the case with the Libri Graeci et Latini. There should, judging from Bernard's numbers, be 204 of these; but, in fact, about 120 volumes contain the collection. There are certain items in this section which cannot be recognized on the shelves. They are

In all there are something like twenty-three volumes in Bernard's list which are not now in the collection: but this defect is more than compensated by the acquisitions of Thomas and Roger Gale made subsequently to 1697. The total number of volumes recorded by Bernard is below two hundred, while, as we have seen, the College ultimately received about 450.

The Gale collection is of a most pleasingly miscellaneous character. Hardly a department of ancient or medieval literature is unrepresented in it; it comprises books written in every century from the ninth to the eighteenth. There are books in Greek, Latin, English, French, Italian, German, Bohemian, Dutch and Welsh. There are excellent specimens of illumination, French, English and Italian, and many of the greater monasteries of this country have made important contributions to the collection. It will probably be of use to point out in this place some of the principal elements which I have succeeded in distinguishing during the process of cataloguing.

First, I would point out a new fact, namely, that a considerable portion of the library of Dr Patrick Young (Patricius Junius) has found a home among the Gale manuscripts[1]. Dr Patrick Young (1584–1652) was, it will be remembered, a Biblical and Patristic scholar of reputation who was librarian to Prince Henry, James I. and Charles I. His life and literary relations are the subject of a careful monograph by J. Kemke (Dziatzko's Sammlung bibliotheks-wissenschaftlicher Arbeiten: Berlin, part 12, 1898): but I cannot find that the destiny of his books has been hitherto ascertained. Many of them were inherited (through his father Sir Peter Young) from his great-uncle Henry Scrimger. It has been asserted or supposed that most of these were given to the town of Dundee in 1618, and deposited in the vestry of St Mary's Church there, and that they perished in a fire which totally destroyed that building in 1841[1]. It is on the other hand stated by Thomas Smith[2] that the most valuable portions of Scrimger's library passed into public collections through Dr Patrick Young's instrumentality. The latter of the two assertions seems to me to be nearer to the truth. One volume at least of Scrimger's own papers is among the Gale books: and, as Scrimger was a Scotchman and Greek scholar, I think it most probable that the various manuscripts of Scottish origin, and the bulk of the older Greek manuscripts in Class O, were once in his possession, and were afterwards owned by Young. A very large proportion of the transcripts of Greek theological tracts are certainly in Young's hand, and so are the notes in several of the older volumes. The dates and place-names (Exton, Bromfield, and the like), which occur in many of the transcripts, first shewed me the identity of the scribe.

The Catalogue of Lord Lumley's library[3] must almost certainly have come through Young's hands: he was librarian to Prince Henry, who purchased the collection on Lord Lumley's death.

Next, there are important relics of the library of Dr John Dee, including the catalogue of that library. Most of the books I trace to him are alchemical and date from near his own time; but there are also one or two older manuscripts of considerable value. Dee's manuscript library was of great interest. It comprised some two hundred volumes, of which more than half, as I hope some day to shew, are still traceable.

A third class not inconsiderable in number consists of the transcripts of various kinds made for one or other of the Gales. These are for the most part Greek philosophical or mathematical works on one hand, and works of medieval English chroniclers on the other.

There are a good many medical note-books of the sixteenth century, mostly the property of one William Dun; while medieval astronomy, astrology and mathematics (especially ecclesiastical arithmetic, or Compotus), are represented by nearly thirty volumes. But a rough table of subjects which I have drawn up will give a better notion of their distribution than any further remarks. It will be found on p. xxx.

The collection has suffered some losses. Nine of the manuscripts sent by Roger Gale are no longer on the library shelves[1]. Of these, four[2] are wholly or in part identifiable with manuscripts now in the British Museum. There, too, are portions of a volume of which the greater part is still in the library[3]. These volumes were all in or about the year 1840 purchased by the Museum from Thomas Rodd who had bought them at J. O. Halliwell's sale[4]. Another volume (O. 1. 72), which had also been acquired by Rodd from the same source, was recovered by the College, and stands in its old place. Possibly the remaining volumes of the series (all of them dealing with astronomy or mathematics) may be hereafter identified either in the Museum or elsewhere. It is perhaps unnecessary to add that no sort of blame attached either to Rodd or to the authorities of the Museum. I should like, in leaving the subject, to express a wish that the missing leaves of the very interesting manuscript numbered O. 2. 45 (it comes from Cerne Abbey, I may remark) could be re-united to their fellows at Trinity.

Another manuscript is beyond recall; namely, O. 4. 36, which was borrowed by Professor Theodor Mommsen and perished in the lamentable fire at his house in 1880. It was not, apparently, an indispensable or even a very important authority for the texts (Jordanes, the Antonine Itinerary, etc.) which it contained, and other copies of its archetype are yet in being: still, the loss of it is very regrettable.

[1] They are O. 3. 44, 49: O. 4. 36: O. 7. 2, 17, 22, 36, 44: O. 8. 16.
[2] Namely: O. 3. 44: O. 7. 17 (?), 36: O. 8. 16.
[3] O. 2. 45.
[4] On this matter see the article on Halliwell in Dict. Nat. Biog.

I should like, in sending out this catalogue of the Gale manuscripts, to be able to think that I had done full justice to the diligence which brought them together and the patriotism and generosity which selected so fitting a home for them as Trinity College Library: but I have no illusions on the subject. Specialists will find, as they must have found in previous volumes from my pen, plenty of unskilled labour, plenty of evidence that I lacked the knowledge of the tracts I was describing, and that I did not even know where such knowledge might have been gained. I must ask them, not only for their indulgence, but for their help. I will submit cheerfully to their chastening, if they will but accompany it with correction. Some of my readers, known and unknown, have supplied me with corrigenda for the first two volumes. For these I would desire to thank them, and would ask them to perform the function again for the third.

The Index which has been promised in previous Prefaces will not be found in this volume. It is in process of being made, and will be issued—I hope quite shortly—as a separate book. I wish to accompany it with a survey of the manuscript fragments from book-bindings etc., in the Library, and also with a full list of Corrigenda and Addenda to the three volumes of the Catalogue.

The work of cataloguing the manuscripts of Trinity College has been a long task, but a very pleasant one. The Vice-Master, the Librarian, the sub-Librarian and the rest of the staff—to say nothing of other members of the Society—have conspired to make it easy; the magnificent building in which the books are kept is itself an incentive to work; and the University Press has once again earned my sincere admiration and gratitude for the masterly way in which it has dealt with the "copy" I have supplied to it. I have sometimes thought of publishing a facsimile of a page of my manuscript. It would excite a lively sympathy for the compositors, but I doubt if my reputation would stand the shock.

I. Harpocrationis Lexicon in Decem Rhetores . . . f. 1
Headed in red Αρποκρατίων.
Ἄβαρις κύριον.
The MS. was collated by C. B. Scott for Dindorf's edition in 1852 from Ἄβαρις to Αἰγεῖον, from Νοθεῖα to Ὅτι οἱ ποιητοὶ παῖδες, the whole of the letter ψ, as well as a number of scattered articles. "The MS. is carefully written, but with many omissions: e.g. the words Αἰγεῖδαι, Νυμφαῖον, Οἶον, Ὅτι διαμαρτάνει, Ὀνήτωρ, Ὀργέων, Ὅρον, σκεῦος, Πυθαεία." Under ξηραλοιφεῖν and Ὁμηρίδαι etc. references to authors are omitted.
In 1897 Dr J. E. Sandys collated the letter Γ throughout, and examined all doubtful points in B and Σ, on behalf of Dr Georg Wentzel of Göttingen.
Notes by Mr Scott and Dr Sandys are in this volume.
The text of Harpocration ends on f. 52 b—ψίθυρος.
Notes follow on
1. ὑποκορίζομαι illustrated from Xenophon and Demosthenes.
2. τί ἐστὶ τὸ ἐν τοῖς δημοσθένους Φιλιππικοῖς· καὶ τὸ θρυλλούμενον τόδε ἀπόρρητον ἐκεῖνο· θεόπομπος ἐν λᾱ δεδήλωκε· φησὶ γὰρ καὶ πέμπει πρὸς Φίλιππον πρεσβευτὰς κ.τ.λ.
3. τί λυγμὸς, $1\frac{1}{2}$ lines.
4. χρεὼν· εἱμαρμένον τέλος ζωῆς. αἰλιανὸς ἐπεὶ δὲ ἐς γῆρας ἀφίκετο τὸ κοινὸν τῇ πεπρωμένῃ χρεὼν ἐξέτισε καὶ τῆς προσηκούσης κηδεύσεως ἔτυχε.

1. A collection of Aesopic fables, 32 in number.
A note in the hand of Dobree on the fly-leaf gives the references to them in Hudson's edition, Oxford 1718, as follows:
Fab. 4, 5, 10, 11, 12, 14, 16, 124, 125, 126, 159, 169, 23, 171, 24, 25, 250 Ἄλλως, 26, 143, 142, 30, 32, 33, 34, 40, 43, 260, 46, 47, 48, 49, 265.
The first is
Περὶ ἀλώπεκος καὶ τράγου.
The last
Περὶ πατρὸς καὶ υἱοῦ.

2. Μόσχου Ἔρως δραπέτης . . . . . f. 28
Followed by a Latin rendering by Politian 30
In an Italian hand.
Amor fugitiuus e greco moschi.
Cum Venus intento natum clamore vocabat.
Printed in Politiani Opera Paris 1529, I. f. 62 b.
At the end is Τέλος τοῦ Ἔρωτος δραπέτου Μόσχου διὰ τοῦ Ἀγγέλου Πολλικιανοῦ Εἰς λατινικὴν τετραμμένου.
p. 32 is blank.

3. Φιλοστράτου Ἀθηναίου ἐπιστολαί 33
(1). μειρακίῳ.
Τὰ ῥόδα ὥσπερ πτεροῖς τοῖς φύλλοις ἐποχούμενα.
The first pages of this section have been used by a beginner in Greek who has written Latin equivalents and paradigms of verbs between the lines in a neat Italian hand.
(44). μειρακίῳ.
Εὖ πεποίηκας στρώμνη χρησάμενος τοῖς ῥόδοις
—μηκέτι πνέοντα ῥόδον μόνον ἀλλὰ καὶ σοῦ . . . 91
p. 92 blank.

4. Στίχοι τοῦ Γλόχειρος Μιχαήλου 93

Τὰ τοῦ δράματος πρόσωπα. Ἄγροικος. Σοφὸς. Τύχη. Μοῦσαι. Χορός.

Ἄγροικος. [ὦ] Χαῖρε Τύχη πότνια τρισολβία.

Ends p. 103

Σοφὸς. γένοιτό μοι νῦν τὸ δὲ μέλλον οὐ βλέπω δέδοικα μήπως εἰς ἐναντίον πέσω.

First printed by F. Morel, Paris 1593, and last in the Didot Fragmenta Tragicorum Graecorum (Dübner).

App. p. x. 79. Dübner knew of no MS.

On 104, 105, originally blank, is written in a xvith—xviith cent. hand a list of books apparently belonging to an English scholar.

It is in two sections, the first containing 20 books.

(1). Harmonia evangelistarum Osiandri cum eiusdem Osiandri in eadem annotationibus.

(20). Laurentius valla de Eleg. Ling. Lat.

The second contains 83 books.

1. Niphe (?) in Elenchos.
2. Perionii translatio topicorum Aristot. cum eiusdem annotat.
64. Nowelli catechismus.
81. Testamentum novum anglice.
82. Ethica Arist. Graece.
83. Arist. Organon Graecum.

All appear to be printed books.

f. 106 is blank.

5. Apophthegmata Philosophorum 107

Arranged alphabetically under names of authors.

1. Ἀντισθένης.

Ἀντισθένης τοῖς μέλλουσι σώζεσθαι ἔφη. φίλων δεῖ γνησίων ἢ διαπύρων ἐχθρῶν. οἱ μὲν γὰρ νουθετοῦντες τοὺς ἁμαρτάνοντας οἱ δὲ λοιδοροῦντες ἀποτρέπουσιν.

The other authorities quoted are Aristides, Aristonymus, Chrysostom, Aristippus, Alexander, Apollonius, Aristotle, Antigonus, Antiphanes, Aristarchus, Anaxagoras, Aeschylus, Anacharsis, Amphides, Antagoras, Aesop, Anexamenius, Aeschines, Apelles, Amasis, Dion, Basil, Bias, Babylas, Barnabas.

Βαρνάβας ὁ ἀπόστολος ἔφη· ἐν ἀμίλλαις πονηραῖς ἀθλιώτερος ὁ νικήσας διότι ἐπέρχεται πλέον ἔχων τὰς ἁμαρτίας.

Benedict (ὁ ῥήτωρ), Bezaleel.

Βεσεβεὴλ ὁ τεχνικὸς ἔφη· διαφέρει τοῦ νηπίου καθ' ἡλικίαν οὐδὲν ὁ ἐν ταῖς φρεσὶ νιπιάζων.

Gregory, Gerontius, Gelasius, (G)lycon.

Diagoras, Diogenes, Demosthenes, Demonax, Dion, Democritus, Demetrius, Didymus, Demades.

Eupolis, Eucritus (ὁ Χῖος), Euripides, Epicurus, Empedocles, Epictetus, Euclid.

Theocritus, ὁ χῖος παραγενόμενός ποτ' εἰς ῥόδον καὶ θεασάμενος τοὺς ῥοδίους τὰς μὲν οἰκίας λιθίνας ἔχοντας.
Here the MS. ends imperfectly.

   Ἐπειδὴ οἱ μακάριοι.
   It is the spurious tract printed in Migne, P. G. X. 903.
   The first leaf of this goes down to ἐν νῷ φέροντες (§ 2). After this another text begins abruptly (f. 31).
   ἐν σφαγῇ· ὁ δὲ ἐξ ἐθνῶν θεὸς ἐν σαρκὶ καὶ ὁ μὲν τῇ σκιᾷ ἠτένιζεν· ὁ δὲ τῷ ἡλίῳ καὶ θεῷ προσέτρεχε καὶ οἱ μὲν δήσαντες χριστὸν ἀπεπέμποντο· οἱ δὲ ἐξ ἐθνῶν προθύμως ἐδέχοντο αὐτόν.
   It ends with a long speech of Joseph to Pilate (δός μοι τοῦτον τὸν ξένον) and may be a bit of no. 2.
   f. 30 is a second leaf of Hippolytus, and carries on the text to § 4.

The seventh book or section ends: ab eis iniuste perpetratam.

Sequitur genealogia Edwardi regis 244

Anno domini m°.lxxiiij tres de prouincia merciorum monachi.

Ends: Cui successit Edwardus filius eius et regnauit annis L. et plus.

The text of William of Jumièges was printed in Camden's Anglia Normannica etc. a veteribus scripta, p. 684 sqq. 1603. Also in Duchesne, Hist. Normann. Scriptt. Ant., p. 245 (P. L. cxlix. 779). This MS. seems to represent the second edition of the history as described by Hardy, II. no. 20, and contained in MS. Harl. 491 and Magdalen Coll., Oxford, no. 75.

Then in another hand is added a note of the accession and death of Richard II.

11. In a different hand.

De infancia Christi 251

De commoracione beate marie in israel.

Erat maria in admiracione omni populo israel.

It is a text of the 'Liber de infantia,' printed by Tischendorf as the Evang. Pseudo-Matthaei, and also by Oscar Schade. It ends

Ihesus autem crescebat statuta (-ra) et sapiencia et omnes qui videbant eum glorificabant deum omnipotentem qui est benedictus in sec. sec. Amen.

On f. 264 b is a form of deed roughly copied:

Pateat.....quod ego fr. R. de Warwych' (?) ord. Cist. quondam Abbas monasterii de C. Recepi etc.

12. In another hand: double columns: in French verse . . 265

Advice from a father to his son.

Un sages ho*m*e de grant valur
Ici su*n*s te*m*ps uescist a grant honur
De suen e*n*fant se porpe*n*sa
Et de suen bien lui moustra.

Ends: Plus ne durai meintenant
Chier filz a deux vous comant.
Explicit.

13. In the same hand: single lines.

Dialogue between Love and a Knight.

Uolez escuter vn deduit
Ke ieo oy cestre autre nuit } tut en cochaunt choain

Entre tresduz fin amur
Et vn p*reu*dome de grant valur } issi disant

Ends:

Ke od moy voillez herberger } sanz returnir

Ieo prie Jesu le fiz marie
Ke me soiez en compaynie } A mon dep*ar*tir. Amen.

14. In prose.
Story of the true Cross . . . . . 273 b
Ki voudra sauer et oyr de la verraie croiz etc.
Ad(am) nostre p*ri*mein (?) pere quant il fu gette hors de paradys.
Ends: tut temps et empire sanz fyn (?). Amen.
The vellum is thin and bad here, and the writing blotted.

15. Inc. speculum Sancti Edmundi Archiepiscopi de tempore mundi 277
En le honour de iesu.
Ends f. 287 b: penser coment il a cele liure de sanne (?).
See Wallace's Life of St Edmund of Canterbury.
On the same page are later scribbled verses to the Virgin, very faint.
On the flyleaf are recto. Nine lines of cent. xv.
A ffesto stelle numerando perfice lune
Quinque bis inde duas bis septem bis deca tetras
A ffesto stelle numerando perfice lune
Quinquaginta dies post lxx^{a} fiet etc.
They relate to the date of Easter.
verso. Miscellaneous scribbles of verses, and pen trials.
One of four lines at the top is signed 'Bleysdale.'
On a slip which follows is,
Iste liber procuratus fuit per Rogerum de Lind(elay).

1042. Enchiridion Augustini. O. 1. 18

Vellum, $7\frac{7}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 113, 19 lines to a page. Cent. x, in a fine minuscule, written in England.

Marked C. 72. No. 204. 2 fo. (text) ne quo.

It seems likely that the book is from Glastonbury. The acrostic on Dunstan as Abbot is an indication (though an unfinished later copy appears in a Canterbury book B. 14. 3) and also the remark 'Liber opt(imus)' which is in the style of the Glastonbury catalogue printed by Hearne (Joh. Glastoniensis ii. 423 sqq.). On p. 426 there is an entry:

"Encheridion Augustini: duo libri, unus bonus, alius inutilis."

Collation: 1^{10} | 2^{8}–12^{8} (6 canc.) 13^{8} 14^{8}.

On f. 12 the text of the Enchiridion begins.

Title in red capitals.

Incipit liber Enchiridion sc̄i augustini ep̄i ad Laurentium primicerium notariorum ecclesie urbis Rome. de Fide. et spe. et caritate 12

Large initial D in black outline. The first two words Dici non, in green capitals filling a line: the next potest in red capitals which seem to me to have been supplied in cent. xii, over an erasure.

There are interlinear glosses, and a few marginal, in two hands, one a most beautiful minuscule. All seem to be in Latin.

The text ends on f. 109 b: et caritate conscripsi.

Then, in red capitals

Explicit enchridion Agustini quem scripsit laurentio.

ff. 110, 111 are blank, save for the word enchiridion pencilled in cent. xiii? on 111 b.

On 112 a are some faint pen-trials.

On 112 b, 113 a is an acrostic (x, xi) of which a partial copy exists in B. 14. 3: I note the variants of this below.

(This perhaps in Young's hand.) Probably the treatise is transcribed from Bodl. MS. Cromwell 12, p. 1025 . . . f. i

Ἐπίγραμμα εἰς τοὺς προχείρους κανόνας ii

(haec ex alio ms° cod. de astron. descripsi).

4 lines beginning

Δέρκεο βίβλον ταύτην ἣς γε πατὴρ πτολεμαῖος.

Table of chapters (23) headed ἀνχιδος (ἄνακτος) ἐστὶν ἡ βίβλος ἡρακλείου 1

α. Ὅσα δεῖ προειδέναι τοὺς ἀρχομένους τοῦ κανόνος.

Text of c. i begins

Ὅτι ἡ σύστασις τῶν κανόνων γέγονεν ἐν τῇ κατ' αἴγυπτον ἀλεξανδρείᾳ.

c. 23 ends on p. 133: τὴν ζωοποιὸν ἀνάστασιν Χριστοῦ τοῦ Θεοῦ ἡμῶν ἐπιτελοῦντες. Χαίροντες κ. δοξάζοντες τὸ πανάγιον αὐτοῦ ὄνομα σὺν τῷ ἀνάρχῳ πατρὶ κ. ζωοποιῷ κ. παναγίῳ πνεύματι νῦν κ. ἀεὶ κ.τ.λ. ἀμήν.

Then follow two folded sheets in Arabic with diagrams.

The first has the Libellus Hypsiclis de Ascensionibus, ἀνέκδοτος.

Inc. liber Theodosii de diebus et noctibus.

On p. 2

Finis libri Aristarchi de Corpore Luminarium (scil. Solis et Lunae), and some further notes in Latin.

1044. MEDICA. O. 1. 20

Vellum, 8 × 6, ff. 328, in single and double columns of various numbers of lines from 19 to 31. In several nearly contemporary hands of cent. xiii, early. All are large and bold. The MS. has some admirable drawings.

Marked C. 52. No. 183.

Collation: 1^8–4^8 5^4 6^6 $7^{?2}$ 8^8 9^6 10^6 11^8–14^8 15^6 16^6 (4–6 canc.) | 17^8–19^8 20^6 21^8 22^8 23^8 (wants 4) 24^8–27^8 28^6 | 29^8 30^8 31^4 | 32^8–34^8 | 35^{10} 36^{12}–38^{12} 39^8 (wants 7) 40^6 41^2 (2 canc.) | 42^6 43^8 44^{12} | 45^6.

2 fo. qui il por.

Contents:

1. A collection of receipts in French, in double columns of 22 lines.

The first portion is in verse, beginning . . . . f. 1

Qui cest liure uodra entendre
Bele raison il poireit aprendre

Plusors choses il porreit oir
Ki mult font bien a retenir
Ce uous di io por cors humain
Ki longesue poent estre sain.

The prologue ends on f. 2

Si enuie a et il me hiet
Moi ne chaut gueres deus le siet .
Kar en tele chose me delit
Ke tornera a graunt profit.

Text.

Por uertin.

Por le uertin pernez la rue.

The last piece in verse is on f. 23.

Espeirement de enfaunt.

Si uous uolez sauer en ame
Quaunt feme porte malle
La face est plus uermaille
etc.

Then follows an

Esperment a plaies.

Treis bons freres estoient ke al oient almont doliuet etc.

and a collection of miscellaneous receipts in prose begins.

The writing changes from double to single columns on f. 33 and the hand appears to change for one leaf; then returns to the first hand.

This collection extends to f. 44 b, ending with a receipt

En contre festre sanz trencher.

2. A tract in single lines, 22–23 to a page 45

The first 2½ lines carefully erased except the initial T and the title A doner medicine.

The text begins:

quant uodrez doner medicine a malades se regarde laquele humor li abunde el cors.

The first few pages may be by another hand: but the first hand clearly resumes on f. 49 b and continues to 52 b. The last being a receipt for "oinement a goute rose."

3. In a closer hand at first (25 lines), then becoming larger (21 lines).

A tract on diseases and cures (Amicum Induit) 53

Chascuns ueraiement et home et beste et oisel qui cuer a en soi a iiii humors.

Different hands appear between ff. 98 and 104: but I cannot find any real beginning or ending of a separate tract until f. 192 que om ait a fere por metre sor cancre Explicit Amicum Induit, followed by a receipt in another hand.

A blank leaf follows.

4. Issi comence le sotil enseignement ypocras a ces disciples que mult li auoient requis coment il deusent uisiter li malades . 195 (194)
Li auctor dist au comencement de cest liure.
19 lines to a page.
The last words written by this scribe are on 211 b por oster la sauor de sa buche.
The quire is finished in a very bold rough hand.
Olibanum ceo est encens . . . . . 211 b
It is on the characters of various simples.

5. By the scribe of no. 4.
A metrical tract de secretis mulierum 215 (214)
Prologe. Bien sachies femmes de ce naies dotaunce
Ci est escrit por uoir de lor science
Denfant auoir et de lor enfantes.
Among authors cited are Hippocrates, Cleopatra, Galen.
It seems to end on f. 234 (232) b:
Sor la femele plus grosse la senestre.
The next two leaves are by the scribe of no. 1. They are in verse and contain miscellaneous receipts.
Por tecches en le uis.
La quele que soit dame ou pucele
Ki desire auoir la face bele.
The last:
Por iaunes cheueus auoir.

6. A tract in prose (21 lines to a page) illustrated with admirable drawings on the lower margins of the leaves. It treats de tote manere de plaies ke auenent al chef . . . 239
A feiz auent que li chef est plaie en plusurs maneirs. This is identical with the beginning of the Chirurgia of Roger of Salerno, an imperfect copy of which follows it.
Other wounds and maladies besides those of the head are subsequently treated, and the tract seems to extend as far as f. 296 b (Del limazun).
E metez sur le mal al plus chaut que li malade le poet suffrir.

7. In a quite different hand, double columns of 31 lines,
Chirurgia Rogeri Salernitani (without title) . . . 297
Prol. Post mundi fabricam eiusque decorem —recipit uocabulum.
Capitula. De cura capitis . . . . . 297 b
Text. De uulnere capitis 298
Capud uulnerari diuersis modis contingit.
Part II. begins on f. 311.
Part III. on f. 318. Part IV. seems entirely wanting.
It ends in the chapter De fractura ossis, 322 b —et si os bene consolidatum fuerit unguatur.
The last column, left blank, has been nearly filled with receipts.

8. In a hand resembling those in the earlier part of the book, 28 lines to a page.

A religious tract beginning 323

Qui uodra bel e beaus uestu apparer deuant la face ihesu : il couient quil ait une robe qui a anon confession.

Then follows an exposition of the Commandments.

f. 327 b is left blank, but the text continues on f. 328 and ends imperfectly with that leaf :

Ceo sunt le deus gardeins que deu ad mis por garder ses.

The drawings in the book are :

On f. 24 b, in outline, touched with red :

A man with a staff, breaking the head of another on R., who has a spiky mace.

The text treats of wounds of the head.

This is an isolated picture. The continuous series of drawings does not begin till f. 239. These are in the very finest outline, sometimes washed with brown, yellow, and green, but more commonly uncoloured.

1. The drawing in the initial on f. 239 is not by the artist of the outline pictures. It has a brownish red ground and represents a seated physician to whom a man with bound head kneels : an attendant holds up a vessel. The doctor has a round cap with peak in centre.

2. At the bottom of the page a drawing under two round arches.

a. On L. a doctor seated : one hand raised, the other gloved, holding the R. hand glove. Cap as in no. 1. Patient reclines on R., one hand up, the other in a sling. His head is shaved and wounded : he puts out his tongue.

b. The Dispensary. Above are two rows of jars lettered.

DIAT. DIATE. DIAP. APOA. POP.

POAT. DIA. DIA.

Below, an attendant pounding with two pestles and mortar. On L. hang surgical instruments. In C., balances. On R. a second attendant mixing drugs with spoon (?) in large bowl.

3. f. 240 b. Doctor sits with scales, on L. Below is a round dish containing various ingredients. Two attendants, one pounds with two pestles, the other stirs a pot over a fire. Between them, a bowl holding four phials. A row of jars, not lettered, above.

4. f. 241. Doctor, hooded, in chair, smears ointment (?) on head of kneeling patient : a woman stands by.

5. f. 241 b. On L. doctor applies knife to head of kneeling patient who is steadied by an attendant.

On R. doctor puts forceps into the head of a patient held down by an attendant. A man behind produces round objects (? money) from a pouch.

6. f. 242 a. Doctor reads excitedly from a book on a desk. An excited patient with swelled face and hands to head.

7. f. 242 b. Doctor on L. sits and bores a hole in head of patient held between his knees, an attendant assisting to hold the body. The instrument is an auger (or trephine) held between the palms of the hands.

On R., doctor seems to be driving a crowbar into the man's head.

8. f. 243 a. Doctor with spatula directs an attendant in mixing drugs. Cusped arch above ; and four tiers of jars variously shaped.

9. f. 244 b. Doctor with floriated staff talks to patient in bed.

10. f. 245 a. Doctor uses forceps and plug to head of kneeling man.

11. f. 245 b. Doctor with balances. Attendant, full-face, pounding drugs. There are two discs on R.: one hangs on wall and shews four coats of arms, the other has drugs on it.

12. f. 246. Doctor with fingers in mouth of patient.

13. f. 247 a. Doctor extracting a huge arrow which goes right through the patient's head. He has a markedly anxious expression.

14. f. 247 b. He pulls an arrow out of the middle of a patient's back (who is prostrate and stripped to his drawers) with a forceps.

15. f. 248 b. He talks to a patient sitting on the ground. An attendant behind with jar rubs or holds the patient's head. Four jars above.

16. f. 249 a. Doctor talks to attendant mixing drugs: four large jars behind, with shields. Bowls on the ground.

17. f. 250 b. L., doctor hammers a bar into the head of a patient.

On R. he holds up what might be a sponge, or something taken from the head, and a cloth. The patient below, with an opening in his head.

18. f. 251 a. He cuts a patient's head with a knife.

19. f. 251 b. On L., he operates with mallet and knife. On R., with auger.

20. f. 252 a. He pours liquid through a funnel in the ear of a prostrate patient on a mattress.

21. f. 253 a. With an attendant, he pierces the stomach of a patient lying on a table.

22. f. 253 b. He sews up a wound in a patient's neck.

23. f. 254 a. He sits on L. and talks to attendant with balances; between them is a bowl on a fire. Above, two rows of jars, and bags (of herbs) hung up.

24. f. 254 b. Seated, he talks to an excited man in a close cap.

25. f. 255 a. He feels the head of a patient (or anoints it): an attendant brings a jar from the uppermost of two rows.

26. f. 256 b. Similar to no. 24. The doctor's legs are crossed: the patient's hands raised.

27. f. 257 a. He sears the upper lip of a patient: attendant blows the fire. The doctor has an iron in each hand.

28. f. 257 b. He feels the swollen nose of a patient.

29. f. 258 a. He sits with blank scroll. One attendant brings a plant and lays it in a dish containing others: a second pounds, a third mixes in a caldron, and holds up a plant. Fireplace on R.

30. f. 258 b. On L., the doctor pulls with forceps at a man's nose. On R., a beardless doctor applies an iron to a man's upper lip.

31. f. 259 a. On L., he applies an oval object to a patient's eye. On R., he operates with a knife on the eye. An attendant steadies the patient.

32. f. 259 b. He handles the bandaged head of a patient. An attendant on R. sits on a cushion pounding drugs. A row of kegs and bottles above.

33. f. 260 a. Seated on L. he holds balances. By him is a bowl in which are bags. An attendant pounding in C. On R., one with short rod looking at jars, of which there are four sets.

34. f. 261 a. Seated with staff, he talks to a man with R. cheek swelled. On R., he operates with knife on the eye or cheek: an attendant holds the head.

35. 261 b. Seated, he feels the bandaged face of a patient.

36. f. 262 a. Seated, he holds the head of a patient who stoops over a fire. On R., he talks to a patient whose face is covered with spots.

37. f. 263 a. Seated, he applies a small tool to the lip of a patient with spotted face.

38. f. 264 a. Seated on L., he has a small yellow dog on his lap, and holds balances. Two attendants on R., one pounding, one stirring bowl at fireplace. Above, three shelves of herbs, bottles, kegs, horns and jars.

39. f. 264 b. He applies a knife to the ear of a patient.

40. f. 265 a. He pours liquid through a funnel into the ear.

41. f. 265 b. He sews up a wound in the neck.

42. f. 266 a. He presses his thumb into the mouth of a patient.

43. f. 267 a. He sits and talks. An excited man on R. in shirt and drawers points to his stomach.

44. f. 268 a. He sits and talks to an attendant mixing drugs. Three instruments, one an auger, hang above.

45. f. 268 b. He opens the mouth of a patient and looks in.

46. f. 269 b. He handles the face of a patient who is steadied by an attendant.

47. f. 270 a. He applies a tool to the lower jaw of a patient held by a woman (?).

48. f. 271 a. Door on L. Doctor sits holding herbs. An attendant pounding drugs. Another stirring in a jar which stands on the capital of a column. A third stirs a pot.

49. f. 272 a. The doctor lances a round tumour on the L. shoulder of a patient held by an attendant.

50. f. 272 b. By another hand. A single seated figure. A scribble by him: pater est alfa et o, filius est uita, sp. sc. est remedium.

Horatii Epistolae.

with marginal and interlinear glosses in several hands.

The first, on Ep. 1. i, begins:

Hanc epistolam mittit or. ad mecenatem excusans se erga illum quod lirica carmina debeat scribere.

I have not detected any but Latin glosses.

Text ends f. 24 b

Rideat et pulset lasciua decentius etas
Quinti Horatii Flacci liber ultimus epistolarum explicit.

f. 25 a is covered with grammatical notes and verses (xii, xiii).
The most interesting are these:

Porticus est rome quo dum spaciando fero me
Res querendo nouas inueni de saphiro uas
Institor ignotus uendebat cum saphiro thus
Thus socius noster tres emit denarios ter
Vas tribus et semi solidis ego prouidus emi
Hoc inconcussum dum tollere sollicitus sum
Pro cophino mundo de uiminibus precium do.
Ponitur introrsum sanum uas. inde memor sum
Extraitur fissum tristis miser inde nimis sum
Si foret ablatum sicut positum fuerat tum
Inter conuiuas magni foret hoc pretii uas.

Evidently an exercise in rhyming with monosyllables.
The verso is covered with moral sententiae, which are most if not all of them taken from the Epistles.

On f. 35 b is this inscription

Shastonia { Iste liber constat / Willelmo Wykes / de burgo Shastonie / in Com. Dors. / et Nicholao Payne de / mottecombe.

The book consists chiefly of forms of deeds, with explanatory text, beginning

Carta est quoddam feoffamentum siue scriptum.

Among the first specimen charters are many relating to Compton, Norton, and Oxford. John of Gaunt and Richard II. are often mentioned.

The last item is a form of bequest, apparently unfinished. On the last two leaves are memoranda, badly written.

1063. MEDICA. O. 1. 39

Paper, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$, ff. cir. 100, badly written. Cent. xvi?, xvii.

Paper, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$, ff. cir. 80. Cent. xvii, well written.

C. 75. No. 207.

At the beginning is a folded sheet containing

The Constant method of teaching in St Paul's School London.

The body of the book consists of a Latin Syntax.

Towards the end is bound in a small printed tract

Syntaxis Erasmiana construction. in usum scholarum Londini ex officina Eliz. Redmayne 1691 (pp. 16).

1067. Cornelius Agrippa. O. 1. 43

Paper, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 6$, pp. 68. Cent. xvii, fairly written.

M. 5. No. 413.

The preface occupies four leaves. It is signed E. P. and appears to be in defence of Henr. Cornelius Agrippa. It begins:

Il m'est arriue en exposant ce present traite a la Censure du public q'une persone destude ma sugerè quelques mauuaises opinions quil auoit de mon Autheur Henr. Cornelius Agrippa etc.

The text is headed:

Anima Magica Abscondita

and begins

On dit en commun Prouerbe, Bastir les Chateaux en lair.

It is a French version of Agrippa's Anima Magica Abscondita.

Paper, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 185 (150 numbered). Cent. xvi, in a current hand and pale ink.
Marked E. 8. No. 245.
An inscription in cipher and another erased on the flyleaf.
There is no title. The text begins

Ensieult lart dastronomie et de geomancie.

The treatise seems to be entirely geomantic.
It occupies 175 leaves and is in French throughout.
Then follows a page of English, and then, in another hand, four leaves of Latin, also geomantic.
I do not detect an author's name anywhere.

1071. Redman's Life of Henry V. O. 1. 47

Paper, $7\frac{1}{4} \times 5$, ff. 35 written + cir. 100 blank. Cent. xvi, in a good hand of the kind employed by Parker's scribes.

Marked No. 431.

At each end is a slip of a good xiith cent. glossed Psalter. On one of these is written: To be returned to Mr Buckland Bookseller.

On the title-page is the name of William Thresher and the date 28 Sept. 1690.

1079. Proverbia Salomonis cum Commentario. O. 1. 55

Vellum, uniform with the last, of which it formed the first part, ff. 78.

Marked C. 81. No. 213.

Collation: 1^8 | 2^8–7^8 8^8 (wants 1, 8) 9^8 10^8.

The first quire is a supplement of cent. xiv and is palimpsest. The lower writing is a sloping uncial of cent. ix in double columns, and the 8 leaves of the quire formed 4 leaves of the original MS.

The text as far as it has been read is Chrysostom. Adv. Judaeos Hom. iv. (1. 625, ed. Montfaucon). A transcript of part of the text made by T R is in the MS.

f. 1 is free from the later writing: ff. 4–8 are more or less defective.

Text begins on f. 2

Παροιμίαι σολομῶνος.
Παροιμίαι σολομῶνος υἱοῦ δα(υί)δ. Παροιμία ἐστὶ λόγος δι' αἰσθητῶν πραγμάτων σημαίνων πράγματα νοητά.
This quire only goes as far as iii. 11 μηδὲ ἐκλύου ὑπ'.
Another quire or more is gone. Then the original hand begins δουλεία ὥσπερ ἐκείνη μεγίστη δεσποτεία φυσικὴ.
The first verse quoted is x. 5 b διεσώθη ἀπὸ καύματος.
The Comment. is complete with the exception of two leaves down to f. 78 ἐλκύουσα αὐτοὺς· ἀλλ' ἡ.
The concluding words are in O. 1. 54 as stated. They have been copied out on the flyleaf of this MS.

1080. Benedictus Lucensis. { O. 1. 56 / vac.

Vellum, 7 × 5, ff. 17 written, 25 lines to a page. Cent. xvi, in a good Roman hand. On the first page a very coarse border of Italian work.

Mark: C. 5. No. 136.

Ad Sereniss. et Inuictiss. Regem Anglie epistolium in opusculum de republica R^di^ in Christo patris et Domini Benedicti de Nobilibus de Luca artium ac iuris pontificii et sacre Theol. doctoris eximii, dei et apostolice sedis gratia episcopi acciensis.

Cum serenissime princeps audissem Hyppolitum fratrem meum tuo mancipatum obsequio.

Text begins on f. 3

Cogitanti igitur mihi.

A quire seems to be gone after f. 16.

Text ends on f. 17 b: Et hoc forte sumus experti in exercitibus destructis in Italia. et sic patet rempublicam legi euangelicae non contra(r)iari. de quibus benedictus deus.

1081. MATHEMATICA, MEDICA, ETC. O. 1. 57

Vellum, $7 \times 5\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 101, varying numbers of lines to a page. Cent. xv and later: in several hands.

Marked C. 1. No. 132.

Collation: a^4 | 1^{10} 2^{10} 3^{12} | 4^{12} 5^8 6^{12}–8^{12} 9^8 (2 canc.).

The book was partly written by, and belonged to, one of the family of Holdenby, or Haldenby (of Isham in Northamptonshire). A leaf at the end of the MS. (numbered 129) contains genealogical entries relating to this and other families, and there are several obits of them in the Kalendar at the beginning. The entries were communicated by Mr W. Aldis Wright to Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica in which they were printed on pp. 246, 247.

The first leaf of the preliminary quire a is blank. On ff. 2 b, 3 a, are two painstaking pen and ink drawings—not very good. The first represents a stag couching (or running: it is not easy to say which) by a tree, in which are a squirrel and an owl. A bird with a blank label in its beak, and a hare, are also present.

The second shews a stag gorged with a coronet, and chain attached thereto, running past a tree: a hound is about to pull it down. In air is a hawk and a lure, a squirrel on a tree and a rabbit in its hole.

On 3 b are Easter Tables 1571–1617.
On 4 a. English verses

In marche aftur the firste C
The next prime telle thov me
Tho thryd sonedaye aftur I wys Estur day for sothe hyt is and if prime on the soneday falle loke thow covnte hym firste of alle.

A Kalendare or list of the 104 chapters follows on f. 106 b.

Ending on f. 110.

II. Twenty-two leaves in a poor hand, containing the latter part of a treatise on the fixed Stars, precious stones, Moon, and signs of the Zodiac.

It begins imperfectly. The first section complete is Pliades dixit Hermes hec stella valde nota est.

By Hermes is probably meant the book Kyranides.

Hermes is quoted again at the head of the section on precious stones, and Messahalla on Hermes three leaves later.

The fragment ends

habebit fortunam de omni colore preterquam de nigro.

Expl. 1496 A° domini. Something is cut off below.

III. In a very neat xvth cent. hand: 18 leaves.

A collection of receipts, mostly magical, on fourteen leaves, headed

In omni opere memento finis.

This list, whose provenance I cannot identify, was printed by Dr Schenkl in Wiener Studien, VIII. 173.
f. 85 b is blank.

Two sermons, closely written in a hand of cent. xiv early.

1. Constitui super uos regem.
2. Cum ieiunasset xl diebus.

The flyleaves following this have part of a sermon or meditation (xiii, xiv) in pencil.

1084. O. 1. 60

Hebrew MS., now R. 14. 62. See Cat. of Heb. MSS.

1085. Geronticon.

O. 1. 61
? 6157 a

Paper, $7 \times 4\frac{7}{8}$, ff. 294, 26–32 and 19 lines to a page. Cent. xv, in two hands. The book has suffered severely from damp, the leaves at each end being fragments. It is now mounted on tracing paper throughout. (No. 433.)

It is a Γεροντικὸν or collection of ascetic anecdotes and precepts.

The first division-mark I detect is on f. 22 b.

περὶ νηστείας καὶ ἐγκρατείας τῆς ἁρμοζοίσης τοῖς μοναχικῶς ζῶσιν ἀσκηταῖς (?) κατὰ θεόν.

The second hand begins at f. 107. It is ugly and bad compared with the first.

The last τίτλος begins on f. 267 b and is the thirtieth.

I believe this to be the volume which is described in the Cat. MSS. Angl. as follows:

6157. 323. De curandis animi adfectibus. Liber iste distinguitur in titulos multos; multaque adducit ex S. Diadocho, Maximo, Palladio, Ephraemo, Isaaco, et Barsanuphio Syriis, et ex aliis Asceticis Graece.

The catalogue then goes on to give the contents of what is now O. 7. 4 under the same number (6157). The two books are of the same size.

1086. Horae.

O. 1. 62

Vellum, $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{5}{8}$, ff. 149 + 48, 17 lines to a page. Two volumes, the second printed. Cent. xv late. (No. 434.)

The binding (cent. xvi) is semée with fleurs-de-lys and tears, and has the initials C. S.

At the beginning is an engraved title-page of Loffice de la Vierge, Paris 1625, L. Louys Boullenger, of which the rest follows the MS. portion.

Collation: $1^6\ 2^6$ | 3^8–$10^8\ 11^6$ | 12^8 (wants 1) 13^8.

Contents:

Kalendar in red, blue and brown, in French	f. 1
Sequence of the Gospels	13
Obsecro te	19 b

Hours of the Virgin	26
Hours of the Cross (first leaf gone)	83
Hours of the Holy Ghost	85
Seven Penitential Psalms and Litany	88
Office of the Dead	103 b
Memoriae	143

The use is of Paris.

Most of the leaves have partial borders, of poor execution. The pictures are decent shop-work. They are:

1. f. 13. Large. St John on islet writing. Eagle on another islet on L.
2. f. 15. In text. St Luke writing at desk.
3. f. 16 b. In text. St Matthew. Angel holding book on L.
4. f. 18. In text. St Mark looking at his pen. Lion on L.
5. f. 19 b. Large. The Virgin half-length with book. Yellow glory. Two small nude angels look over a curtain behind her.
6. f. 23. In text. A similar arrangement: but the Virgin is crowned and carries the Child.
7. f. 26. Matins. Large. Annunciation. Angel kneels on R. with sceptre and points up to dove.
8. f. 46. Lauds. Visitation. Elizabeth on R. lays her hands on the Virgin's body.
9. f. 56 b. Prime. The Virgin, Joseph, ox and ass adore the Child who lies on the ground: stable and arras on L.
10. f. 61 b. Tierce. Two shepherds look up at demi-angel with blank scroll.

12. f. 68 b. None. Presentation. Symeon nimbed on L. Round altar in C., a man in a hat behind it. Virgin and maid on R.
13. f. 72. Vespers. Herod throned on L. gives orders to three kneeling soldiers in gold armour.
14. f. 78. Compline. Christ throned on L. with orb. The Virgin, crowned, kneels to Him. An adoring angel in air.
15. f. 85. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost. The Virgin kneels in C. The Apostles R. and L. The Dove above.
16. f. 88. Seven Psalms. Bathsheba stands nude in a river. Her clothes on the bank. A castle on R., out of whose window, David, with crown and sceptre, is looking.
17. f. 103 b. Office of the Dead. Job seated on L. on straw. Ruins in the distance. On R. two friends address him.
18. f. 143 sqq. Small pictures in text. Memoriae. The Trinity. Father (with orb) and Son (shewing His wounds) side by side, half-length, on one throne and in one mantle. The Dove between them. They support an open book.

19. St Michael striking with sword at the face of a devil on L.
20. St John Baptist among trees with book: a lamb at his knee.
21. SS. Peter and Paul in a room, with key and sword.
22. St Sebastian bearded, bound to tree on R. Archer on R.
23. St Nicholas, as Bishop, blesses three children in tub on R.
24. St Mary Magdalene seated, with book. Casket on rock by her.
25. St Katherine with crown, sword and book.
26. St Barbara with palm and book. Tower on R.
27. St Genovefa with candle. Angel in air on L. Devil with bellows on R.

1087. Biblia. O. 1. 63

Vellum, $6\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 48 + 11, double columns of 47 lines. Cent. xiii, in a good small hand. 2 fo. luminis.

Marked E. 5. No. 252.

On the first flyleaf is a neat inscription (xvi) from Deuteronomy.

Ne recedat volumen legis huius ab ore tuo, etc.

Genesis—2 Chronicles.
At the end of 2 Chron. the Prayer of Manasses is written in the margin by a neat xiv or xvth cent. hand, which has made other additions.
Ezra, Nehemiah, Tobit, Judith, Esther.
Job. At the end of Job are notes in the margin, the lessons, and Psalms, for the Office of the Dead.
In the text is also the LXX. supplement at the end of Job.
A blank leaf (200) follows.
The second part of the book is not in the same hand as the first.
There are small pictured initials, viz. to Proverbs. Solomon teaches Rehoboam.
Eccl. Two figures: damaged.
Cant. Virgin and Child.
Wisd. A King.
Ecclus. A nimbed woman holding a church.

Expl. liber de uita et miraculis beatiss. pat. Cuthberti lindisf. Ep.

Item de quo supra ex .iiii. ecclesiastice hystorie gentis anglorum libro.

Erat in eodem monasterio frater quidam nomine beadothegn . 87 b
—uite et uirtutum eius quisquis legerit inuen.....(erasure).

The most interesting feature of the MS. is that it was meant to be copiously illustrated: a space for a picture is left at the beginning of each chapter: but no sketches have been begun save two full-page drawings on 9 b, 10 a, illustrating c. ii.

The background of each is a roofed building with three round arches in front. In the first drawing is seen on L. an angel on horseback approaching Cuthbert who sits on a chair on R. He is a nimbed youth, and is holding in both hands his swollen R. knee which is raised. Behind him is another nimbed figure.

In the second drawing the figures on R., Cuthbert and the other, are in very similar posture. The Angel's horse is gone, and the angel on foot is handling Cuthbert's knee.

1089. MEDICA. O. 1. 65

Paper, three volumes of different sizes bound together. Cent. xvi, xvii and xv.

Marked L. 9. No. 400.

I. A note-book $7 \times 4\frac{3}{4}$, ff. circa 50, containing miscellaneous receipts in French and English, with drawings of apparatus. Towards the end are some accounts of serpents at "Avegnion" and "Bayon" in English. There is also a good deal of cypher resembling music in aspect.

II. An oblong note-book, $3\frac{3}{4} \times 5$, ff. circa 50: in the same hand I think as no. I. An index at the beginning. It contains receipts in French and Latin. The last leaf is, I think, a key to the cypher used in no. I.

III. Paper, 6×4, foliated from 129 to 269. Cent. xv, in two chief hands, both ugly.

Contains at first miscellaneous receipts, mostly in English.

At 214 we have the heading

Hic incipit Tabula herbarum.

At 243 the hand changes and red is used for the sections and headings.

1090. Lexicon Graece. O. 1. 66

Paper, $5\frac{7}{8} \times 4\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 205, 19 lines to a page. Cent. xv (1460), well written. The leaves at the beginning are fragmentary.

Marked L. 14. No. 405.

Collation: (nine leaves) | ζ^8 η^8 (wants 1, 7) θ^8 ι^6 κ^6 $\iota\beta^{8?}$ (wants two) $\iota\gamma^8$ $\iota\delta^8$ (wants 6–8) $\iota\epsilon^8$ (wants 1) $\iota\varsigma^8$ (8 mut.) $\iota\zeta^8$–$\iota\theta^8$: of quires κ, $\kappa\alpha$ nine leaves remain $\kappa\beta^4$ $\kappa\gamma^{10}$ (wants 4) $\kappa\delta^8$ (wants 7) $\kappa\epsilon^8$ (wants 6) $\kappa\varsigma^8$ $\kappa\zeta^8$ $\kappa\eta^8$ $\kappa\theta^8$ (wants 1–3) λ^8 $\lambda\alpha^8$ (five left) $\lambda\beta^8$ $\lambda\gamma^8$ | eleven leaves.

Contents:

I. 1. A Lexicon.
The first nine leaves are mere fragments.
The first rubric left is on 7 b
τὸ α μετὰ τοῦ ξ.
Ἀξιάγαστος ἀξιοθαύμαστος.
Thirty or forty leaves at the beginning are damaged at the top: but less than thirty have lost any of their writing in consequence. There are many leaves lost as will be seen from the collation, but the alphabet ends on f. 3 of quire λ.
ὦ. ὥτινι.
τέλος τοῦ ὦ μεγάλου.

2. Ἑρμηνεία λέξεων κατὰ στοιχείων ἐμφερομένων τῇ βίβλῳ τοῦ ἁγίου Διονυσίου ἐπισκόπου ἀθηνῶν . . . . . λ. 3 b
Ἀγάμενος—ὦπται. ἐθεάθη.

3. Λέξεις τοῦ τετραβασιλείου. βασιλειῶν α. λα fol. ult. Ἀμαφέ.
Patrick Young has collated this in the margin with other copies, and added references.
—ἐν σοχὼθ· ἐν συγκλισμοῖς.

4. Λέξεις τῶν $\overline{\rho\nu}$ ψαλμῶν . . . . . λβ. 2
Αλληλουΐα.

5. Λέξεις τῶν ὠδῶν. ὠδη ᾱ.

Followed by Λέξεις of Jeremiah, Daniel, τῶν ἁγίων ἀποστόλων.

7. Names of the twelve Apostles, with interpretations.
Πέτρος ἐπιλύων ἢ ἐπιγνούς.
Followed by a miscellaneous paragraph with faint rubric.
καὶ ἕτερα (?) ἐκτὸς τῶν ἁγίων ἀποστόλων ἐν ᾧ ἠσὶν ταῦτα.
Φαραῶ .. λήπο ἄμπελος ἀγρία Βαρουχ .. Ἐδὲμ... Ὡσάννα κ.τ.λ.

Οὐχ ἐψήσεις ἄρνα ἐν γάλακτι μητρὸς αὐτοῦ, interpreted as shewing why Christ was not killed by Herod.

Faint diagrams in red of the virtues, senses, etc.

II. In a smaller hand and pale ink.

The first page very faint: ending with a list of the planets.

Ὁ κρόνος ἔνε πολλὰ κακοποιὸς κ.τ.λ.

On the verso

τὰ βότανα τῶν ζ̄ πλανητῶν καὶ τὶ ἀποτελούσην.

Spaces are left for drawings of the plants at the head of each chapter. A late hand has inserted a rough picture of the plant of Aphrodite (σατήριον).

Ends imperfectly in the section on the plant of the Moon.

1091. O. 1. 67

Paper, $6\frac{1}{4} \times 5$, ff. 25, 17 lines to a page. Cent. xvi, very neatly written.

Mounted on tracing paper, and newly bound.

Paper, $5\frac{3}{4} \times 3$, ff. cir. 100. Cent. xvii early, well written.
Marked L. 7. No. 398.
The name Johannes Fountayne is on the title-page.
The first item, not by the scribe of the rest, is a copy of 16 Latin Elegiac verses

In celeberrimam victoriam hybernicam.

All the rest are Greek Epigrams, written the other way of the page.
At the end two short Latin poems, one on St Luke, and a Carmen θριαμβικόν.

1094. VIE DE STE FEBROINE, ETC. O. 1. 69

1103. O. I. 78

A vellum roll, $10\frac{3}{8}$ in. broad and nearly 8 ft. long. Cent. xv, in a neat, rather current hand.

A Genealogy of the Kings of England.

The poem begins

(P)er hanc figuram inferius circulatam possunt sciri diuersa regna que quondam per Angliam et in Anglia distinguebantur. Verumtamen anglia oblonga est etc.

The paragraph ends with some verses about the principal cities.

De cuius laude quidam sic ait metrificando.

Illa quidem longe celebri splendore beata

ending:

Testes Ely formosa situ couecestria visu.

(P)ost suprascripturam regnorum particionem quibusdam regibus processu temporis inter se dimicantibus etc.

Then follows the Genealogy, beginning with Adelbrith filius Ailmundi regnauit triginta septem annis et mensibus sex

Brithrich Rex Westsexie.

These two names are placed on a level. They are enclosed in red circles with some ornament. The names are throughout in red, and there is accompanying text in black.

The roll ends with

Edwardus secundus post conquestum regnauit decem et nouem annis et dimidio.

The text ends (unfinished or imperfect) coronatus est in Regem apud Westm. citoque post scilicet 3^{o} nonas Aprilis translatus.

1104. Hugo de Kirkestall. O. I. 79

A vellum roll, $10\frac{1}{2}$ in. broad × 8 ft. 4 in. long. Cent. xv late, in a current hand. The top is somewhat torn. The roll is partly written on both sides.

Narracio de Fundacione Fontan*ensis* monasterii in Com. Ebor.

Reuerendo patri et domino Abbati de fontibus frater Hugo monachus de Kyrkestall salutem que nunc et est eternam.

Incipit.....

Placuit excellencie vestre pater venerabilis ut succincta narracione in acta redigerem quo auctore vel ordine.....nostra sancta scilicet fontanensis ecclesia cui deo disponente in presentiam presidetis etc.

The text on the front of the roll continues to the bottom and ends in a section headed de fundacione novi monasterii.

It is continued on the back of the second membrane, occupies the whole of that and the third, and ends on the fourth and last.

The last section is: De reuelacione trinitatis.

The subject is seemingly Abbot Radulphus.

The text ends

nullus in iudicio equior nullus in amicicia constancio(r) fuit.

Edited for the Surtees Society in 1862.

1105. Liber Eliensis.

Vellum, $9 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 256 + 2, 29 lines to a page. Cent. xii late, in a beautiful hand.

In wooden boards covered with vellum.

Marked B. 408. No. 114.

From Ely Cathedral Priory. On the margin of f. 1 of the Historia is the mark ✠ which occurs in other Ely MSS.

For the text of this and O. 2. 41, see D. J. Stewart's ed^{n}. of the Historia Eliensis, printed for the Angliana Christiana Society 1848, and also N. E. S. Hamilton Inquisitio Comit. Cantabr.

Collation: 2 flyleaves | 1^{8} 2^{6} | 3^{8}–11^{8} 12^{10} 13^{8}–15^{8} | 16^{16} (14–16 canc.) 17^{8}–22^{8} 23^{10} (+ 10*) 24^{10} 25^{10} 26^{8} 27^{8} 27^{2} | 28^{10} 29^{8} 30^{8}.

The two flyleaves and also ff. 229, 230 are from a music book (xiv) with music on a five-line stave. Among the words set are Regina clementie, Stilla mellis, O maria singularis stella non erratica, Salue sancta parens Christi, Virgo decus castitatis, Agmina militie celestis.

Contents:

f. 1 a is blank.

Kalendar in black . . . . . f. 1 b

Each month occupies two pages. The left-hand page has the feasts and in a second column a number of obits of Ely monks, benefactors, etc.

A note at the top of f. 1 b says: hic describitur nota monachorum et laicorum benefactorum nostrorum.

The right-hand page is blank save for the entry of the days of the month and is doubtless intended for the reception of further obits.

Among the feasts I note:

Vellum, $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 49, 25 lines to a page. Cent. x, in two beautiful hands.

2 fo. nullaque.

Marked B. 11. No. 72 (77).

There are admirable initials of two kinds; one, black outlines of interlaced work, with beasts' heads filled in in pink, the other (f. 34) resembling enamel work, the interlacings being filled in with red, green and other colours. Both these styles are found in B. 14. 3 (Arator), and the work in the two books is so similar that one is almost justified in assigning them to the same hand. The Arator is from Christ Church, Canterbury, and I assign this volume also to that house. In the oldest catalogue several Prospers are entered.

Against this is the fact that at the top of f. 41 a an xith cent. hand has written a line with neumes alma uirgo aeþeldryðа hac que die plena suscepit celestia which points rather to Ely. The same hand continues, on f. 42 b,

In sanctitate fulgida et plena felicitate compleuit dies suos gaudia. Pulcra facie.

The writing of f. 34 is strikingly like that of B. 4. 27, also a Canterbury book: and on the margin of f. 43 is a note in the Christ Church hand of cent. xi, xii, unless I am much mistaken.

   Haec agustini ex sacris epigrammata dictis.
   Titles throughout in red rustic capitals. Initials to the poems alternately red and green. Initials to the lines in red.
   Ends with Versus Prosperi ad coniugem suam (l. c. 611) . . 31 b
   Age iam precor mearum comes in remota rerum.
   A red capital K is put in the margin at irregular intervals: it occurs eight times. (cf. O. 1. 18).
   Ends (33 b)
   Vt caro non eadem tantum sed mens quoque nobis.
   A late hand (xvi) has added the last line, and Finis huius libri.
   There are a good many interlinear glosses, but I have seen none in English: on 32 a are a few in French.
2. In another hand, resembling that of B. 4. 27: fine initial,
   Catonis Disticha.
   Inc. prefatio libri sequentis 34
   In green and red capitals.
   Cum animadverterem quamplurimos grauiter in uia morum errare.
   —libenter amorem ferto.
   With interlinear Latin glosses.
   Two xvith cent. notes on Cato follow.
   Liber primus 35
   Sideris est animus nobis ut carmina dicunt (in green and red capitals: a good initial).
   Liber secundus . . . . . 36 b
   Liber tertius . . . . . 38 a
   Four lines in this supplied by a later hand (xii) in the margin (f. 39).
   Liber quartus . . . . . 39 a

Ends imperfectly f. 40*b*

Suspectus caueas ne sis miser omnibus horis.

The hand of cent. xii adds nine lines in the lower margin.

Nam timidis et suspectis aptisima mors est.

Ending

Hoc breuitas fecit sensus coniungere binos.

(See on this MS. Wiener Studien, v. 166.)

3. Then should follow the leaf now numbered 43.

Versus Bedae presbiteri de Die iudicii. (P. L. XCIV. 633.)

Inter florigeras fecundi cespitis herbas.

(In red and black capitals: fine initial.)

Then follows f. 42, then f. 41. The poem ends imperfectly

Candida uirgineo simul inter et agmina flore.

The hand of cent. xvi adds the remaining thirteen lines, and also the beginning of the next article.

4. Prudentii Tituli historiarum. (P. L. LX. 89) . . . 46

Beginning imperfectly in the fourth section

Risit sarra casa sobolis sibi gaudia sera.

The title and opening lines supplied on a paper leaf of cent. xvi.

The titles are in capitals.

After f. 49 should follow the leaf numbered 45 which completes the text, ending

Et septem potuit signacula pandere solus.

Expliciunt tituli historiarum.

The verso is blank.

4. Eiusdem εἰς τὸν βασιλέα ἥλιον πρὸς Καλούστιον. προσήκειν ὑπολαμβάνω (Orat. IV.) 112 (113)
Ends imperfectly p 123
τὰ συνήθη καὶ γνώριμα λέγειν (p. 190 ed. Hertlein).
The original scribe adds the catchword στάσις and the next page continues στάσις ἐστὶ τῆς ἀπειρίας.
But these six leaves (which are of blue paper) really contain the end of Orat. V. (εἰς τὴν μητέρα τῶν θεῶν) from p. 218, l. 5, Hertlein to the end—καθ' ὑμᾶς πορείᾳ (p. 133).
On p. 134 (135) are these verses by Stephanus (?).
Haec ego per terras misere iactatus et vndas
Naufragio excepi factus prope naufragus ipse
Expectusque graues terra pelagoque dolores
Et mala perpessus dictu maiora fideque,
In nimium nimiumque tui studiosus oberro ditare
Ut tandem te aliquo possim oblectare reuersus
Munere quod nostrum erga te testetur amorem.
Quod si vis tales לְקַח־טוֹב (lector) pensare labores
Non aurum pensa (quoniam mihi sordet et aurum)
Haec peto quorum Iro, si vult modo, copia larga est.
Nempe animum memorem semperque juuare paratum
Et mihi quas possit cupidum persoluere grates.
5. Πίναξ τῶν λόγων τοῦ Ἰουλιανοῦ 135
6. Ἰουλιανοῦ αὐτοκρ. λόγος Ἀθηναίων τῇ βουλῇ κ. τῷ δήμῳ (Epistola: Hertlein p. 347) 137
Πολλῶν εἰργασμένων.
Ends p. 146, καὶ ἀγαπήσουσιν. A blank leaf.

7. Ἰουλιανοῦ αὐτοκρ. μισοπώγων ἢ Ἀντιοχιῆσιν 147
In another hand, 20 lines to a page. At the top ἐκ τῶν Ἐρρίκου τοῦ στεφάνου.
Ends p. 202. τὰς ἀμοιβὰς ἀποδοῖεν.

Throughout the book are marginal notes, seemingly by Stephanus.

1144. Miscellanea. O. 2. 40

ff. 55–58 now follow f. 62. They contain a continuation of the Latin text. ff. 59–61 a have much later scribbles, or are blank.

On 57 b is a diagram of a head. On 58 b are macaronic verses on the friars (21)

Freers freers wo ȝe be ministri malorum
For many a mannes soule brynge ȝe ad penas infernorum.

On 61 b begins a text

Si quis igitur mutaciones prescire uoluerit.

On 63–68 b are Kalendar-tables for each of the twelve signs.

On 69–102 are a series of square diagrams, six on a page, shewing the position of the signs. Some are blank. Others, on f. 100–102, have notes of years 1430, 1474, 1497 etc.

Next follows a series of rhymes in English 103

Sepcies in die cadit iustus Parab. 24°. Aug. de peccatis venialibus.

Fyrst whan a man or wooman drynk more
? My tyme here then myster wore
Whan yu may helpe thorwgh wytte or skylle

VI. Paper, about 100 leaves, very roughly written (by W. Dunn) containing

1. Guinterius . Institut. anatomicis.
Multum habet momenti in curandis morbis.
2. Lectures on Anatomy.
3. Obseruationes anatomicae ex Barthol. Cabrallo aliisque anatomicis desumptae.

At the end are three leaves and part of a fourth of the Aristotelian index, of which there is a leaf in I. These leaves are in the letters A, D, and M.

1149. Miscellanea. Cerne Abbey. O. 2. 45

Vellum, $8\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 131, 41 lines to a page. Cent. xiii (after 1248), in a fine clear hand. Written in England.

Marked B. 55. No. 121.

2 fo. quando duos or uiuis et regnas.

THE CYLINDROID.

To face p. 150

From Cerne Abbey: in the Kalendar is St Edwold, and there are many verses relating to Cerne on p. 11. St Edmund of Canterbury (canonized in 1248) is in the Kalendar.

On the first leaf is the name

William Armiger, natus fuit 1569 sepult. 1638 ap...

Stuck to the cover is a leaf of a service-book with a lesson for St Vincent and music on a four line stave (xii).

There is also a slip of an early xivth cent. MS. containing one column on each side of a French version of 2 Maccabees e.g.

Ceus qui o lui estoient et les despecierent par pieces et puis lur coulpirent les chies et les giterent hors. En toz ces choses seit deus benoiz qui a destruit les desloiaus pur ce que nous fussioms deliurés etc.

At the end are two leaves of other MSS.

1. Part of a leaf of a xiiith cent. Vulgate in double columns, containing parts of John viii–xi.

2. A leaf of a Breviary (xvth cent. English) with lessons for St Lucy on the exposed side.

Collation: 1^{10} (wants 10) 2^{12} (one quire gone) 3^{12} (a quire gone) 4^{12} 5^{8} 6^{12}–8^{12} (quires gone) 9^{10} 10^{12} 11^{8} 12^{8} (wants 8).

The old numbering of the pages (xvii, xviii) gives a clue to the extent of the lacunae.

The table of contents in the manuscript catalogue is as follows: the items marked with an asterisk are now missing. I add the pages of the MS.

Collect. arithm. cum vers. retrogradis aliisque et quaestt. plurimae (?).
Compendiosa subtilitas Multiplicationis (30).
*de usu quadrantis et Cylindri.
*De compositione Cylindri et eius officiis.

De quodam monacho adult. (344).
Prognostica (347).
Ignis Graeci compositio (350).
Carmina Proverbialia (351).

The missing portions of the manuscript came into the hands of J. O. Halliwell, who sold them to Rodd, from whom they were purchased by the British Museum in 1838. They now form MS. Egerton 843, ff. 48 containing

(1) f. 1. Jo. de Sacro Bosco de Sphaera.
(2) f. 12 b. Definitions of stars. Luna dicta est quasi lucina etc.
(3) 13 b. Hic inc. expositiones uerborum predictorum difficilium.
(4) 15. Hic inc. spera mag. Roberti lincolniensis Episcopi.
(5) 22. Uniuersalis autem mundi machina.

(14) 38 b. Cent xv, neatly written.
Verses on Compotus, with gloss.
Filius esto dei celum bonus accipe grates.
Ending f. 39 a, followed by 3 blank leaves.
(15) 40. De quadrante scire debes quod circulus solis duas habet medietates.
—Hec quoque de practica quadrantis dicta sufficiant.
(16) 43. Cum quadrantem componere uolueris.
(17) 47–48. Tables of equatio, declinatio, altitudo solis.

The old foliation has been carefully erased and the leaves bound in a fresh order.

Of the above tracts nos. 6 (7, 8), 15, 16 followed p. 42, nos. 10, (11, 12) followed p. 102, no. 4 (5) followed p. 236, no. 14 may have been the last thing in the volume. It would not be possible to ascertain the proper places of the remaining leaves without unbinding the MS.

The contents of the portion of the volume before us are:

1. A Labyrinth drawn in red ink . . . . . f. 1
   Above
   Non hic introeas nisi que sint hec tria dicas

36. A Collection of Proverbs 351
The intention at first was to write the English equivalent in red and the Latin verse in black. This has only been done on the first page. The first English rubric is rubbed: the second is Hering hom com hine weope hi wende for þe fische þat hi scholde faste.
Allec cernentes famuli fleuere timentes
Successura fore ieiunia piscis amore.

On p. 357 no room is left for interlineations, and the hand is probably another: on 359 there is room left again: not on p. 360–362: pp. 363, 4 are blank. The volume ends with 365, 366 which are full.

The last lines are

Ve mihi cum cuncti contradicunt mihi soli
Si nullus secum teneat ut non tenet equa.

On the top of the flyleaf in Mason's (?) hand is a note

Gerlandus 146, 189. loose leave(s) 103, 339, 367.

1152. HERBARIUM. O. 2. 48

Paper, $8\frac{3}{8} \times 6$, ff. 273, 26 lines to a page. Cent. xiv. The paper is very thick and soft and much worn at the edges, especially in the middle of the volume. 2 fo. Nomen herbe.

Marked K. 15. M. 385.

The flyleaf is part of a leaf of a large Bible in double columns, of cent. x.; it contains part of Gen. xliii.

Collation: In quires of twelve, with not a few mutilations. The collation is almost impossible on account of the character and condition of the paper.

I think the work is German.

Contents:

There is an enormous number of coloured drawings in the book, roughly done, but seemingly after good models, and possibly in the case of a fair number of the plants, from nature. Probably the whole number is between 800 and 1000. The large majority are merely pictures of the plants, but some are figure-compositions.

On 4 b (Herb. quinquefolium). A seated figure holds a cup of wine and a flagon. A man on R. with two javelins approaches. Buildings with dove-tail battlements on R. and L.

15 b. Mutilated picture of a scene in a dispensary.

19 a. Doctor with cup. Man on L. with a pain in his stomach, attendant on R.

19 b (Dittany). Doctor with cup and flagon. Man on R. with serpent at his feet.

20 a. Hunting scene.

21 b. Herb Paeony brought to a sick man.

22, (23) b. A man riding to R.; a crowd of figures accost him.

24 b. Medicine being dispensed.

25 b, 26 a. Scenes with doctors and patients.

27 b, 28 b, 29 b, 30 a, 35 a. Similar scenes.

38 a. Dog pulling up mandrake.

47 a. Three men with spears and dog approaching mandrake.

53 b. Milking a goat.

55 b, 56 a (Herba Salomonis). Monk and woman. Man holding up a herb towards two demoniacs on R. Devils fly upward out of their mouths.

64 a. Scenes with epileptics.

64 b. Full page. A City.

65 a. Galienus et eius discipuli. Full page. He is throned between four armed men. Below are two disciples writing.

65 b. Full page: a city.

66 a. Ypocrates et eius discipuli. Full page. He is throned: three figures on each side, two with scrolls: under the footstool is an agonised figure supporting it.

88, 89. Four figure-compositions, (1) 2 women and a man.
(2) Man in agitated movement: man with spear.
(3) Man and woman, (4) woman and man with scroll.

93 a. Christ and the Virgin conversing: very rough.

93 b. Two scenes, patient and doctor: 3 people sit under a herb.

97, 99, 100, 101, 103. Scenes with patients.

134 a. Man fighting a snake.

134 b. Three people in a ship.

The text of the Herbal ends abruptly on f. 250 b with the herb forobos.

Then follows a tract on beasts and birds, with rough drawings, de lepore.

Rex egipciorum octauiano augusto • salutem • plurimis exemplis expertus sum victoriam tuam et prudenciam.

There are pictures of Hare, Fox, Goat, Boar, Bear, Wolf, Lion, Bull, a sort of human-headed serpent not named (f. 255), Elephant, Dog, Ass, Mule, Horse, Ram, Wild Goat, Youth and Maid, Cat, Grillus, Weasel, Mouse, Eagle, Vulture, Hawk, Crane, Cock, Partridge, Goose, Swallow, Dove, Crow, Hen, Hoopoe, Stork, Pie, Owls (4), Blackbird, Heron?, Parrot (cut out), Swan, another cut out, Peacock, Marmot?, Crocodile (a bird), Ostrich, Leopard, Deer, Unicorn, Dragon. The two last are on the last leaf, which is much mutilated.

1153. MEDICA. O. 2. 49

Paper, with vellum flyleaves, $8\frac{1}{4} \times 6$, ff. $99 + 3$, 38 lines to a page. Cent. xv (1450), very roughly written.

Marked E. 19. No. 256.

The recto of the first vellum flyleaf is covered with faint writing: on the verso are late receipts: on the second is an extract from St Bernard in English (xv) and on the third late receipts, and a classification of remedies (xv).

Text begins:

Ad Cancrum in virga.

It is a mass of surgical collections: English passages and charms occur: there are rough diagrams, and on 5 b is a paragraph beginning Ego dictus Johannes arderne Cirurgicus.

On f. 35 we have:

Practica mag. Joh. Arderne de Newerk cirurgici.

On f. 40 are drawings of instruments.

On f. 89 begins a separate tract:

Salus pauperum et infirmorum uel adiutorium salutis.
Ad honorem dei et d. I. C. et sue matris etc.

On f. 99: De pulsibus. Cum decem sint genera pulsuum.

Ending f. 99 b: et respiracione. Expl. de puls. quod Grene. 1451°.

Followed by a table of cent. xvii.

1154. BURLEY DE VITIS PHILOSOPHORUM ETC. O. 2. 50

Vellum, $8\frac{3}{8} \times 6$, ff. 196, double columns of 27, 36, 31 lines. Cent. xiv, xv, clearly written, perhaps in Flanders.

Marked B. 59. No. 125.

Belonged to the Dominicans of London.

On the flyleaf is:

Donum fr. Joh. Tille mag^{ri} conuentui predicatorum lundon. a°. do^{i} 1421 in festo purificacionis b. marie.

On f. 1 is what may be a press mark:

Q. P^{m} and the name Tille.

At the top is :

Maria Ihe. Johannes tibi ihesu laus lux eterna.

The book belonged afterwards to Dr John Dee. I do not find his name or mark in it, but it corresponds exactly to the following entry in the Catalogue of his MSS. (ed. Halliwell, Diary of Dr Dee, Camd. Soc., p. 67).

3. Compendium de vitis philosophorum anonymis. Ursonis de commixtionibus elementorum. Eiusdem aphorismi. 4° pergameno.

Vita S. Wlframni Ep.

An erasure of four lines follows.

At the end is a similar piece of a flyleaf. Near the top in a hand of cent. xiii is Passionale Sancti Ignatii • primum.

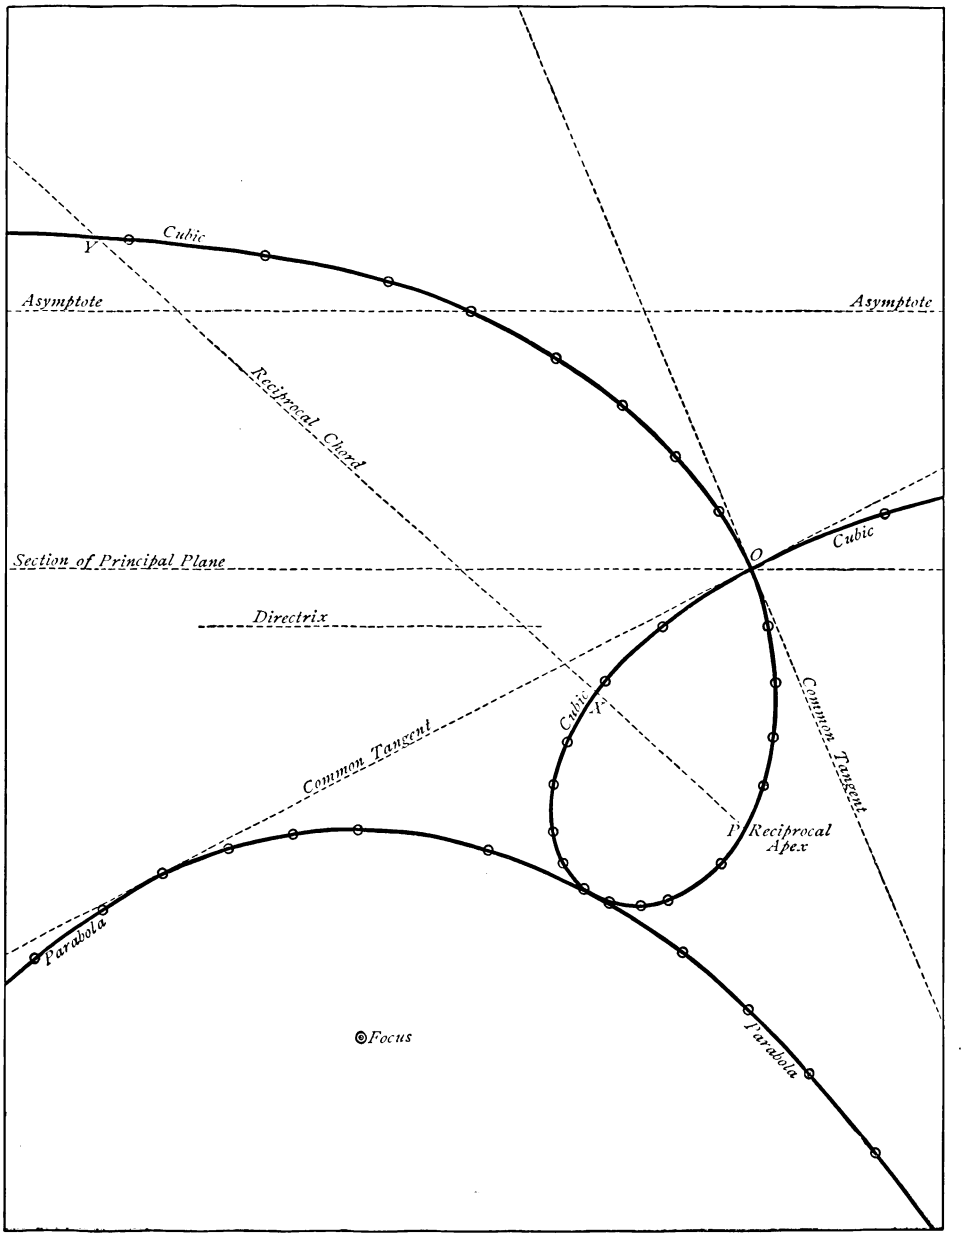
There seems to have been no other writing on it. This fragment fixes the provenance of the book to Christ Church, Canterbury. In the Catalogue (Edwards, p. 155) we have "Passionale S. Ignacii primum."



THE CENTRAL SECTION OF THE CYLINDROID.

To face p. 166

Before reading this leaf I had had very little doubt that the book came from Canterbury. The second volume is in a small hand unmistakably of the Christ Church type, and an initial on f. 121 is also markedly characteristic of the same place. It is not, unfortunately, possible to identify either of the MSS. in this volume with any entered in the Catalogues we possess, for all marks have disappeared.

At the top of f. 1 is the date 1588 and an owner's name erased.

Contents:

I. In a round minuscule (possibly by two hands), 23 lines to a page. Cent. x, xi. Rough initial S at the beginning. Rubrics in rustic capitals. Interlinear and marginal glosses, apparently all in Latin.

Prudentii Psychomachia . . . . . f. 1

The title almost illegible.

Text:

Vellum, $11\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 52, 28 lines to a page. Cent x, in a fine minuscule, written in England. 2 fo. (text) limen tristis.

The initials are plain capitals filled in with colour, usually yellow. The metrical portions are written in rustic capitals.

There are interlinear and marginal glosses, contemporary, in a very beautiful small hand.

On the recto of f. 1 is a full-page drawing, by an English artist of the time, of a female figure (Philosophy) standing full-face with veiled head, holding in her R. hand an open book (tall and narrow) and in her L. a flower or short floriated sceptre. This drawing is in outline, touched with vermilion.

The book is from St Augustine's, Canterbury. In the Catalogue of that Library (p. 66) is the entry: Boecius de cons. phil. cum C. 2 fo. limen.

The author lived in the 8th century and wrote commentaries on twenty-one of St Gregory's orations. This work was partly printed in Latin by Billius at Paris. Fabric. Bibl. Gr. VIII. 430.

1181. PHOTII LEXICON GRAECE. { O. 3. 9 / 5985

Vellum, $11\frac{3}{8} \times 9$, $7 + 149 + 4$, double columns of 37 lines. Cent. xi and xii, in at least two very good hands.

Marked G. 21. (No. 306.)

The flyleaves at beginning and end have been strengthened with slips from an early xivth cent. Latin Psalter, very finely written (by an English scribe). Over this has been pasted a xvith cent. paper writing in English, of which there is a set-off on the flyleaf.

The presence of the Psalter fragment may indicate that the book was in England in medieval times.

The first two vellum flyleaves are blank. The next three are also blank, but have been closely ruled with lead; the next two are blank. At the end are 4 blank vellum flyleaves.

Collation: $\alpha^{?8}$ (first and last leaves left): quires β–$\iota\gamma$ gone: $\iota\delta^8$ (wants 1, 8) $\iota\epsilon^8$ $\iota\varsigma^8$ | $\iota\zeta^8$ $\iota\eta^8$ $\iota\theta^{?8}$ (wants 3–6) κ^8 | $\kappa\alpha^8$–$\kappa\delta^8$ | $\kappa\epsilon^8$ | $\kappa\varsigma^8$ | $\kappa\zeta^8$ $\kappa\eta^8$ | $\kappa\theta^8$–$\lambda\beta^8$. The four inner leaves of $\lambda\beta$ now precede the four outer. After $\lambda\beta$ a quire is thought to be gone. One other leaf remains.

The MS. was edited by Porson, in two volumes 4to, in 1822, at Cambridge. His estimate of the lacunae is as follows:

After f. 1 between Ἀᾶσαι and Ἀγχίνοια 4 leaves wanting.
(This would make a a quire of 6 leaves.)
After f. 2 Ἀδιακριτος—Ἐπώνυμοι 100 leaves wanting.
(Probably 97: 12 quires of 8 and the first leaf of the next quire.)
After f. 42 Κοικύλλειν—Κρατηρίζων 4 leaves gone.
After f. 148 Φορητῶς—Ψιλεύς about 8 leaves.
After f. 149 about three.

It should be added that a leaf is lost after f. 8.
The scribes are thus distinguished:

A wrote ff. 1, 2.
B ,, ff. 3–24.
(I believe these to be the work of one scribe only. It is a fine delicate sloping minuscule of cent. xi.)
C wrote ff. 25–52.
This is a bold upright round hand of cent. xi, xii?.
D wrote ff. 53–69 b, l. 11.
E 1 ,, 69 b, l. 12–end of leaf.
F ,, 70–84.
E 2 ,, 85–92.
G 1 ,, 93–100.
E 3 ,, 101–102 a.
G 2 ,, 102 b, l. 1–116.
H ,, 117–end.
This, though much smaller than C, resembles it more nearly than any of the others. The distinction between E and G is rather doubtful to my mind.
The writing of all the scribes depends from lines ruled with a dry point.

At the top of f. 1 in a hand of cent. xii? is:

χῶ τὸ δῶρον ἐκ νικήτα τοῦ λύχνου.

In the lower margin was written:

Ἐκοιμήθη ὁ δοῦλος τοῦ θεοῦ νικήτας ἄεδρος καὶ ἀνστάριος ὁ λύχνος.
Below was a date cut by the binder, which Porson read as ϛψζ (6707 = A.D. 1199).

The whole of the first page is so blackened with galls that this second inscription is now illegible.

Vellum, $11\frac{3}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 152 + 7, 19 lines to a page. Cent. xv, in the peculiar hand of the 'Leicester Codex.'

Marked H. 25. No. 339.

Binding: stamped leather over boards. The principal ornaments on the first cover are

1. Square: a fleur de lys with one quatrefoil in upper L. corner.
2, 3. Square stamps of leaves and flowers.
4. Square stamp of crowned lion.

On the second cover, 1, 3 recur, and also a small square stamp of a dolphin, a band of vine-ornament, two large lozenges with four-petalled flower, and the inscription in black letter

B hale.

Collation: 4 flyleaves | a^8–$\iota\theta^8$ | 3 flyleaves.

The quires are numbered in the original hand in Greek: the first four leaves are marked in this way (e.g. in quire 5):

1. εον. 2. φυλλ β εου. 3. φυλλ γ εου. 4. φυλλ δ εου.

Also they are numbered by a Latin scribe from a to t, both in ink and in pencil: the latter marking ceases towards the end.

There is a third numbering (partial) in Arabic figures.

On the 4th flyleaf are these notes in the hand of Patrick Young:

(1) In hoc codice absunt Psalmorum tituli universi.

(2) Σημειοῦται collatum esse hoc exemplar cum nouem codicibus.

MS. Regio		MS.
Aldina editione		A.
Compl. editione		C
Romana editione		R.
Chrysostomo	in Psalmos.	Ch.
Theodoreto		Th.
Euthymio		Eu.
Catena Corderii	in Psalmos.	CC.
Catena Nicetae		CN.

In a later hand.

Cod: Ravii in Ps. 18.

As a matter of fact the collation does not extend beyond f. 17 (Ps. xxii Lat.).

At the top of f. 1 in a xvith cent. hand is

No. 1255.

The initial to each Psalm is in pale red, usually with some foliated ornament; quickly and rather poorly done.

Each verse has a small initial in the same red.

The first quire is written in a hand slightly larger than the rest: but I see no reason to doubt that it is the same hand. It seems not unlikely that the first quire was early worn out or lost, and supplied by the same scribe.

With the second quire (Ps. xiv) the Latin incipits of the Psalms begin to be added, and are continued to the end of the Psalter. There are none in quire 1. They are in a late xvth cent. hand, in a pale red not distinguishable from that of the initials.

Contents:

The Psalter.
Various readings from the authorities named above are noted in the margin up to Ps. xxii Lat. xxiii Heb.
There are interlinear Latin glosses in red (in the hand which wrote the incipits), in quire 2: they are few in number in the early part of the book, and soon cease. But in Ps. cxviii (cxix)—Ps. cxxii (cxxiii) they are fairly continuous. They then cease.
At the end of Ps. cl in red is written: Finitur psalterium.
Then follow
Ps. cli. Μικρὸς ἤμην.
Song of Moses (1) Exod. xv.
(2) Deut. xxxiii.
Song of Hannah.
Prayer of Habakkuk.
Isaiah xxvi. 9. Ἐκ νυκτὸς ὀρθρίζει.
Prayer of Jonah.
Prayer of Azarias.
Song of Three Children.
Magnificat.
Benedictus.
Prayer of Hezekiah.
Prayer of Manasseh.
Ending f. 151 a.
f. 151 b and the flyleaves are blank.

The interesting point about this MS. is that it is written in the same script as the well-known Leicester Codex of the New Testament.

See Rendel Harris, The Ferrar Group (1900: pp. 24 sqq. and plate 1). I am myself inclined to think that the Latin glosses in the MS. are by an English scribe: at any rate not by an Italian.

1187. Nicetae Catena in Psalmos Graece. { O. 3. 15 / 5857

Paper, $11\frac{5}{8} \times 8$, ff. cir. 400, 20 lines to a page. Cent. xvi, in a very ugly hand.

No old mark. (H. 10. No. 324.)

Contents:

Eight leaves in the hand of Patrick Young (?), containing Catena in Psalmos προσευχὴ Μωυσεῖ τῷ ἀνθρώπῳ τοῦ θεοῦ ψαλμ. πθ.
1. Καλὸν ἀξίωμα τῷ Μωυσῇ
—Μακάριοι γὰρ οἱ ἐλεήμονες ὅτι αὐτοὶ ἐλεηθήσονται (f. 2).
f. 3 blank.
2. καὶ πέρας ἔστι. τὸ μὲν οὖν ἀληθῶς τε καὶ κυρίως μακάριον ἡ θεία φύσις λέγοιτ' ἂν εἰκότως.
On Ps. 1 supplying a lacuna in the text of this MS.
3. Further scholia on Pss. i–iv, xiv, at the end of which is:

On f. 8
Hanc lacunam ex ms. D. Vsherii Primatis Armachani qui olim fuit Nicodemi Metaxae suppleuimus quam vide in charta proxima. Probably this is MS. 113 (Abbott's Catalogue) at Trinity College, Dublin: paper, cent. xvi.

The verso of the last leaf is stuck to a flyleaf. The last 3 leaves are a repetition of part of the comment on Ps. xlvii. The text goes down to Ps. lxxii.

1188. O. 3. 16

Paper, $11\frac{5}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{8}$, ff. cir. 100. Cent. xvii, very neatly written. No old mark. (M. 14. No. 428.)

1190. AUTOLYCUS. { O. 3. 18 / 6081

Paper, $11\frac{5}{8} \times 7\frac{3}{8}$, ff. cir. 150. Cent. xvii, very neatly written. Each page divided horizontally into two halves with red lines.

Marked H. 9. No. 323.

By far the greater part of the book is blank: but past the middle of it are 33 leaves written, containing

Αὐτολύκου περὶ ἐπιτολῶν καὶ δύσεων βιβλίον πρῶτον
Τῶν ἀπλανῶν ἀστέρων αἱ ἐπιτολαί τε καὶ δύσεις.

The Greek text is written in the upper division. In the lower it was intended to write the Arabic version, but only one page of this has been done.

The second book begins after 15 leaves, and occupies 16 leaves. Then follows

Αὐτολύκου περὶ σφαίρας κινουμένης,
Ὁμαλῶς λέγεται φέρεσθαι σημεῖα.

Ending unfinished on the 3rd leaf with line 1 of section iv.

1191. REGISTRUM BREVIUM. O. 3. 19

Vellum, $11\frac{1}{4} \times 8$, ff. 243, 40 lines to a page. Cent. xv, closely written. In old binding of skin over boards.

Marked G. 20. No. 311.

Collation: In quires of 8, two of 10: last of 8 (5 and 7 canc.).

The catchwords are in some cases ornamented with shields etc.: one shield that occurs more than once has a bend dexter engrailed az. with 3 estoilles of five points arg. (see f. 139 b).

Registrum Brevium.

1. Breue de Recto Patens (4 Hen. IV.?) as to Will. Pullesden.

Fine initial of characteristic English style.

The last division is de presentacione. The last brief de presentacione ad prebendam (Will. Ashton's presentation by Robert Bp of Chichester to the prebend of Stone in the free chapel of Hastings).

1192. STATUTES. O. 3. 20

Vellum, $11\frac{5}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 180, 40 lines to a page. Cent. xiv early, well written in law hand.

Binding: old red skin over boards: clasps gone.

Marked H. 17. No. 331.

On the flyleaf the name Craddeley (xiv, xv) and Ego Will^{mus} Bekke. A piece has been cut out of the leaf which is stuck to the 1st cover.

On the flyleaf at the end, in a good hand of cent. xiv early, are these inscriptions.

Aat (? Dat) ic blithe sii • dat ghi minne mi • Mi soete lief ēn ghi.
Al mi troest siin ghi • theron god sta mi bi.
Minne doet mi blide siin • die ic draghe in minen sinne.

De Genere superparticulari et eius speciebus 2*b*

De Genere superpartienti 5

De Genere multiplici superpartiente et eius speciebus . . 9*b*

On the last example (f. 12*a*) is:

Quod Joannes Dygouns M° Vuylborns.

f. 12 b is blank.

On f. 13 begins another division in which the same genera are treated, with examples. It begins

Proportio dupla est prima species multiplicis generis and ends on f. 18 a: aut per figuram ut hic. 8 ad O. 8 ad C. An example follows.

1211. Raymundus Lullius. O. 3. 39

Paper, $9\frac{1}{2} \times 7$, ff. 80. Cent. xvi, roughly written, in an Italian hand.

Marked B. 52. No. 118.

On the flyleaf

Iste est liber de esse angelico qui est valde vtilis et cognoscendus in breuitate.

Also

On the next leaves are notes and tables of contents, and a rough sketch of a man riding towards a castle.

The text appears to begin on f. 5 b

Yhesus. Maria. Raymundus.

In isto tractatu ostenditur quomodo possimus gloriosissimum deum dominum nostrum contemplari per x modos.

It is difficult to see where the tract ends. The book is very badly written. It has many diagrams, and copious lists of quaestiones.

1212. Secreta Secretorum, in English. O. 3. 40

1230. Roll of Carols. O. 3. 58

Vellum roll, 6 ft. 7 in. long by 7 in. wide. Cent. xv.

Presented in 1838 by H. O. Roe, Esq.

At the top is a much obliterated inscription in red in two lines.

On the front of the roll are thirteen Carols in English with music on a five-line stave.

They have been edited with a facsimile by J. A. Fuller-Maitland, M.A., and W. S. Rockstro (1891, Leadenhall Press).

The opening words of each are

1. Hail mary ful of grace.
2. Nowel nowel.
3. Alma redemptoris mater. As I lay.
4. Now may we syngyn.
5. Be mery be mery.
6. Nowel syng we now.
7. Deo gracias Anglia. (The Agincourt Song.)
8. Now make we merthe.
9. Abyde I hope.
10. Qwat tydyngis bryngyst y^{u} massager.
11. Eya martir stephane.
12. Prey for us ye prynce of pees.
13. Ther is no rose of swych vertu.

On the back are some offices in a rather later hand.

1. De Sancta Trinitate.
   Benedicta sit sancta Trinitas.
   With Epistle and Gospel etc.
2. De Angelis.
   Benedicite dominum omnes angeli.
3. Officium corporis Christi.
   Cibauit eos ex adipe frumenti.

4. De sancta cruce.
Nos autem gloriari oportet.
Unfinished, ending in the Gospel ad illudendum et flagellandum et crucifige(ndum).

1231. PROCESSION OF PARLIAMENT. O. 3. 59

A vellum roll, 10¾ in. high × 24 ft. long. Cent. xvi (1512).
Given by ? .

The parleament holden at Westm*inster* the IIIJth day off February the thirde yere off oure soueraigne lorde Kyng Henry the VIIJth.

It is a picture-roll representing the Lords in procession. Their arms and names are written and emblazoned above. The drawing is not of the first class, but is fair. The faces can hardly be regarded as portraits. All are beardless.

First come the mitred Abbots, their names and arms in many cases left blank.

Th Abbot off tewkysbery lord Henry Beley is first. There are 25, the last being the Abbot of Westminster.

Next the Bishops, whose shields are blank, and their names added in a later hand.

Sir Thomas Skerryngton, Bish. of Bangor, is the first, William Warham, Abp of Canterbury, is the 20th and last.

The Duke of Buckingham follows, preceding the King, who walks under a canopy.

The Peers are headed by Thomas Grey Marquis of Dorset. Their names and arms are in the original hand, the 30th and last is William Lord Conyers.

1232. ALEX. NECKAM DE NATURIS RERUM. { O. 4. 1 / 5995

Vellum, 13½ × 9½, ff. 169, double columns of 38 lines. Cent. xiii, finely written. Flourished initials in red and blue.

Marked F. 5[1] (F. 7. No. 267) and at top of f. 1, No. 60.

From Barnwell Priory, just outside Cambridge.

On the verso of the flyleaf in red is Liber Ecclesie sancti Egidii de b*e*rnewelle (xiii).

[1] There is no number F. 5 in Gale's MS. Catalogue.

On the verso of the 2nd flyleaf a xvth cent. title

Alexander de naturis rerum.

The second flyleaf has a good deal of xiii–xivth cent. pencil writing, seemingly a sermon.

Collation: 2 flyleaves. 1^{10}–17^{10} (wants 10).

Contents:

1235. Livy (I–X). O. 4. 4

Vellum, 13 × 9⅜, ff. 180+4, 41 lines to a page. Cent. xv, in a fine clear Italic hand.

Original binding with circular stamp of nimbed eagle on book. Lozenge stamp of nimbed dove, and other decorative stamps. 2 clasps gone.

Marked F. 1. No. 261. 2 fo. Etruria.

At the bottom of f. 1 is the shield very carefully painted of Matthias Corvinus, King of Hungary, and the initials M.A. On either side of this is a wreath in which is an angel holding a shield. That on L. is gules two fesses wavy arg.: that on R. is erased.

There is a partial border of white scroll-work on red and green, and an initial of a youth in plate armour half-length facing R.

On the flyleaf

Epithauium Mathie nouissimi Ungarorum regis

Mathias iaceo rex • hac sub mole sepultus
Testatur uires austria uicta meas.
Terror eram ...do, metuit me cesar uterque
Mors potuit tantum sola nocere mihi.

In the cover is the name De Buebenhofen, and a note on the fondness of Alphonsus (of Naples) for reading Livy.

At the end:

Nobilis ac strenuissimus eques dominus Johannes Caspar de bubenhoffen donauit propter suam in me beniuolentiam michi hunc e(ximi)um et elegantissimum librum anno 1496 die 4ª mensis Octobris marescalatus sui officio sub sigillo Illmi ducis eberhardi de wirttemberg et W(al)deck.

A rough sketch of a shield on R.

Also a badly written inscription which I read thus:

Liber iste spectat(?) nunc(?) ad filium legitimum eiusdem de Greifen ..... qui nominatur hieronymus..
Obiit autem die (blank) anno 1532.
Nobilis dus ad Greyphenstain d.d. Nobili Dno Jo. Mel. de Buebenhofen Ao 1530.

There are also two carefully erased inscriptions.

Collation: 2 flyleaves. 1^{10}–18^{10} 2 flyleaves.

Contents:

On f. 16*b* is the name Rene du four.

Ends f. 178*b*: supplicatio habita est.
ff. 179, 180 are blank.

Each book has a good initial of white branch-work on red, blue and green grounds ornamented with white dots.

1236. GREGORII MORALIA. O. 4. 5

Vellum, $13\frac{1}{4} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 205, double columns of 37 lines. Cent. xii late, in a good black hand, rather pointed.

Large initial on f. 1, mainly in red and green.

Binding. Old; white skin over boards: two clasps gone.

Marked F. 2. No. 262. 2 fo. or uero eius.

At the end is this colophon:

Dompnus Eudo de Mere fecit scribere hunc librum et dedit domui beati thome martyris. Anima eius et anima patris eius Geruasii et omnium fidelium anime per misericordiam dei requiescant in pace. Amen.

This in my opinion shows the book to have belonged to the Abbey of St Thomas of Lesnes (called also Westwood) near Woolwich. It evidently had a good library: several volumes from it are at Gonville and Caius College.

Collation: 1^8–11^8 (7 canc.) 12^8–26^8 (wants 7, 8).

Title in red:

In nomine Sancte Trinitatis. In expositionem Beati Job Moralia Gregorii (pape erased) per contemplationem sumpta. Libri Triginta quinque. Inc. liber vicesimus tercius. Pars V^a.

Prefationem huius operis.

The first page is not in double columns.

On f. 2 is scribbled Many (?) Perkins.

The subsequent books have initials in green and red.

Lib. xxxv. ends f. 205 b:

pro me lacrimas reddat. Amen.

1237. OLYMPIODORUS. O. 4. 6

Paper, $13 \times 8\frac{1}{4}$, pp. 207, 29 lines to a page. Cent. xviii (1701), very well written.

Marked A. 33. (No. 33.)

In the cover is this note:

Transcribed from a MS. in Oxford Bodleian Library Anno 1701 by y^e hand of a Sweede.

There is also a letter from J. Hudson (Univ. Coll. Oxf. Nov. 9, 1701) to Dr T. Gale, accompanying the transcript. The scribe's name is not given.

The MS. from which the transcript was made appears to be Laud. Gr. 43 of cent. xvii.

1238. S. HIERONYMI QUAEDAM. { O. 4. 7 / 5994

Vellum, $13\frac{1}{8} \times 9\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 170 + 2, double columns of 32 lines. Cent. xii early, in a hand much resembling that of Christ Church, Canterbury.

Fine outline initials.

Old binding: rough white skin over boards: strap and pin fastening gone.

At top of f. 1 is the number No. 625 in a xvith cent. hand.

Marked F. 3. No. 263. 2 fo. uolentibus.

From Rochester. At the bottom of f. 1 is (xiii) liber de claustro Roffensi per G. Camerarium.

The contents are identical with those of B. 2. 34, a Christ Church book; and the initials are of the same type.

I have little doubt that the book was written at Canterbury and bought for Rochester. It occurs in both the Rochester Catalogues printed in Archaeol. Cantiana iii. p. 58 and vi. p. 122: in the first it is no. 52, in the second (and older) no. 46.

On the flyleaf is a table of contents by the original scribe, headed

In hoc uolumine continentur hi libri.

Collation: 2 flyleaves. | A^8–X^8 Y^4 (wants 3, 4 blank).

Text

Ἥρωνος ἀλεξανδρέως πνευματικῶν πρῶτον.
Τῆς πνευματικῆς πραγματείας σπουδῆς ἠξιωμένης.

Lib. II. begins on f. 26 and ends on f. 47 b:

Προσενεχθέντος αὐτῷ ποτηρίου πίεται.

Spaces are left throughout for diagrams. After the text diagrams follow, occupying 17 leaves.

1241. Iuvenalis et Persii Satirae. { O. 4. 10 / 6025, / 6026

Vellum, $12\frac{7}{8} \times 10\frac{1}{8}$, ff. 110, 21 lines to a page. Cent. x, in a beautiful round English minuscule. Initial on the first page filled in with purple.

Interlinear and marginal scholia in a small fine hand like that of the text.

Marked A. 47. No. 47. 2 fo. Aut lugdunensem.

From St Augustine's, Canterbury. The mark is gone, with the first leaf, but in the Catalogue of the Library f. 107 we have Juuenalis cum A. 2 fo. in libro aut lugdunensem. D. xj. G. 2.

Collation: a^8 (wants 1) b^8–i^8 k^4 l^8 m^8 (+ 8* Cuius) n^8 o^8 p^4 (wants 3, 4 blank).

On this and O. 4. 10, see Wiener Studien III. 313, and also J. D. Duff's Juvenal (Cambridge, 1898).

Contents:

1. Juvenalis Satirae (without title) . . . . . f. 1
   Semper ego auditor.
   The first marginal scholium begins:
   Togatos romanos sign*ifi*cat quia...toga utebantur.

On f. 35 is the name Miss Rickaby.
A spirited drawing of a beast on f. 91 a.
The Satires, which are divided into 5 books, end on f. 92 b,
Tamquam homine et uentri indulsit non omne legumen.
Then in capitals
Iste Iunius Iuuenalis cum sua poetica desinit loqui.

2. Persii Satirae.
Annotatio Cornuti 93
Satira est genus clarni uel lancis
—et reprehensionibus.
Hic fabulam tangit.
Forcus rex • III • filias
—incusas pectora flammas.
Inc. adnotatio.

Persii Flacci Sattirarum inc. Prohemium . . . . . 94 b
Nec fonte labra etc.
Expl. Prefatio. Inc. liber Persii.
O curas hominum.
The first four pages have scholia (at first repeated from the adnotatio above) in the beautiful tall round minuscule characteristic of St Augustine's.
There are no marginal scholia of the original scribe, and only a few interlinear: on the last six leaves none at all.
Ends f. 110 b: tui finitor acerui.
Then
omne latus mundi peragrant iam nomina bella.
Later (xi) quod rex uuillemus.
In the original hand
Virgilius de nutrice sua dixit (Martial I. 19).
Si memini fuerant tibi quatuor helia dentes
Expulit una duos tussis et una duos
Iam secura potes totis tussire diebus
Nil quod agat istic tertia tussis habet.

A rough sketch of a man (xi) and some meaningless scribbles.

1242. IUVENALIS SATIRAE ETC.

{ O. 4. 11
5987,
5988

Vellum, $11\frac{5}{8} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 96, 19 lines of text to a page. Cent. x, in a delicate Carolingian minuscule, with marginal and interlinear scholia by the same hand.

Marked F. 8 (9). No. 269. 2 fo. Nunc uia.

From St Augustine's, Canterbury. Entered in the Catalogue, f. 107, Juuenalis cum B. in quaterno 2 fo. in libro Nunc ui[t]a D. xi. G. 2.

On f. 1 is a scribble (xii)

R^mdo d^no suo Will^s de uermedene.

On the last page

H. dei gratia Cant. Arch.

Collation: I^8–XIII^8 (VI is omitted in the old numbering). A slip is cut from the top of f. 1.

Contents:

1. In double columns, with rubrics in rustic capitals which have become hard to read

EGLOGA HUKBALDI ALVE
CUIUS HAEC EST CAUSA CALVUS ? CURA . . ONS.
Carmina conuictu cerritos carpere caluos.

Ends f. 2 b

Completur claris carmen cantabile caluis (P. L. CXXXII. 1041).

2. Decimi Iunii Iuuenalis Satyrarum liber primus inc.

Semper ego auditor . . . . . f. 1

The first scholium here begins:

Decimi dicebantur apud antiquos a kalendario.

Throughout the book the references to the scholia are indicated by letters of the alphabet, and when these are exhausted by Tironian notes. There is an occasional tendency to write the scholia in patterns.

The Satires are divided into five books: the text ends f. 96 a

Ut laeti faleris omnes et torquibus omnes
D. Iunii Iuuenalis Satyrarum liber v. Expl.

Scholia end: et phaleris donabantur milites.

Then follow in the same hand

1. Versus. Almo • teon • tyrsis • orti sub colle polori Semine disparili laurente • lacone • sabine etc.
...
Nais amat tyrsin • glauce almona • nisa Leonem.
(Anthol. Lat. Riese 393.)

2. Then in a faint hand verses on a puzzle
Tres primum niuei sunt inde nigri quoque bini
Huic niueo fuscus societur ab inde locatus etc.
7 lines ending
—furuus circlum determinat unus.
In the margin in the same hand as the scholia.

3. A list of the muses
Clio • ystorias
...
Calliope litteras.
Verses on them
Clio gesta canens transactis tempora reddit
...
Diuus apollo nouem musarum nomina signat
In medio residens complectitur omnia phoebus
Cerne superficiem lector pariterque medelam.

4. Item versus cuiusdam sapientis viri.
(On the same subject as those above, no. 2.)
Bis duo nunc niuei presunt et quinque nigelli
...
Orbem tunc furuus denum determinat unus.
On the verso

5. Five lines in a large hand, much rubbed, on the divisions of the As.

6. A Hymn, by the original scribe (?) . . . . . 96 b
Rex aeterne glorie da nostre memorie se mundare te laudare.
In me firma uelle aufer nolle domine
Qui es uia ueritas et perfecta caritas auctor rector dux et uector. Firma

In the Litany:

Martyrs: Georgi Thoma erased.. Cesari Albane Oswalde Aedmunde.
Confessors: Marcialis...Augustine cum soc., Dunstane, Cutberte.
Virgins: Fredeswida.
Suffrages: Ut regi*bus* (erased) et principibus etc.

The Office of the Dead has been oddly treated. The first leaf has been pasted on to the last leaf of the Litany, and is almost gone. This last leaf of the Litany was seemingly a xvth cent. insertion.

The ornamentation of the book is interesting. It is of several periods.

1. Initials historiated and decorative, original. Also pictures, two leaves of which only survive, before Ps. cix.
2. Initials cut from a xiiith cent. Bible and pasted on the margins of the leaves.
3. xvth cent. insertion before the Psalter.

The last named comes first in the volume.

On f. viii b is a full-page picture of a man in civilian's dress kneeling face R. at a prayer desk, with open book, under a canopy. The man's features are undistinguishable.

Round the arch is written:

Of your charyte pray for the soull of wyllyam clarkson ferrar (ferear) of london and margeret hys wyffe and all þere childaris.

On f. ix a border with effaced shield (quarterly) in the lower margin.

Large initial. Christ as the Man of Sorrows standing in the tomb, bleeding, with chalice before Him, surrounded by the Evangelistic emblems; the names of the Evangelists on scrolls.

Original decoration.

Beatus vir. Large initial. Jesse sleeping: from him springs a tree with seven figures; at the sides, four nimbed prophets with scrolls. In C. (1) David seated crowned, with harp, and sword with Goliath's head on it. (2) The Virgin suckling the Child. (3) Christ throned, with book, blessing.

Gold ground.

On the margin is pasted an initial I from the Genesis of a xiiith cent. Bible, containing seven elliptical medallions on gold ground, illustrating the days of creation and God resting on the seventh day.

f. 3 a. Initial H from Exodus: Moses horned, followed by elders, smites the rock.

On f. 8 a has been an initial from the Bible, now gone, so also on ff. 7, 9, 12, 15, 19 etc.

f. 22 a. Initial F from ? Reg. King admonishing a man.

f. 22 b. Dominus illuminatio. Decorative initial: grotesque man with sword.

f. 25 a. Initial F from 2 Reg. Man in mail beheading another man.

f. 30 a. Initial P from 4 Reg. Ahaziah falls out of tower.

f. 35 a. Initial I. Prophet with book.

f. 36 b. Dixi custodiam. Decorative.

f. 38 a. Initial T from ? . Sleeping man by a tree, cloud ? above.

f. 40 a. Initial I from Esther. A queen.

f. 42 a. Initial P from Proverbs. Man seated, with large green rod, teaches a naked boy with a book.

Quid gloriaris and Dixit insipiens have large decorative initials.

At Exaudi deus. Initial A. A man (Habakkuk ?) lowers a basket through a roof: a man inside stretches up his hands.

Salvum me fac. Decorative.

At Attendite. Initial I. Prophet with scroll.

Exultate. Decorative.

At Venite exultemus. Initial I. Prophet with book.

Cantate. Decorative.

Domine exaudi. Decorative.

ibid. Initial I. Prophet with book.

Ps. ciii Lat. Initial F. (Luke). Luke writing: ox-head in cloud.

civ — — I. (John's Gospel). Nimbed deacon or priest with book.

cv — — H. (Prol. to John). John writing. Eagle's head.

cvi — — P. (Acts). Ascension. Virgin and Apostles: feet of Christ above.

cviii Deus laudem P. (Romans). Paul writing.

Followed by two blank leaves, then on the inner side of the next two leaves, a set of pictures, six on each page, on gold grounds ornamented with incised lines and patterns.

All those on the left of the first page are under three arches, the central one a trefoil: those on R. are in a lozenge inscribed in a quatrefoil.

1. The Betrayal. The Kiss of Judas. Malchus wounded.

2. The Scourging. Christ full-face. Two tormentors.

3. Bearing the Cross. Two men behind Christ with clubs, one in front appears to grasp His nimbus.

4. Crucifixion. A man nailing the feet with one nail.

Two figures on each side: the outermost, spectators, then on L. Longinus pierces the side and rubs his eyes, which have blood on them. He is beardless and unarmed. On R. a man with reed and bucket.

5. Deposition. The Virgin on L. takes the R. hand: a man supports the body. John on R. Another detaches the R. hand by means of pincers.

6. The angel seated on the elevated end of the lid of the sepulchre. The three women on L. Three soldiers lie below.

Second page. The pictures on L. are lozenge inscribed in quatrefoil, those on R. under 3 arches, the central one a trefoil.

7. Descent into Hell. Christ with resurrection-cross leads Adam and Eve to L. out of Hell mouth. No other figures.

8. Christ stands between trees with resurrection-cross. Magdalene prostrate on R. wipes His feet with her hair.

9. The two disciples in cloaks going to Emmaus. Christ, opposite, talks to them.

10. Trees on L. and R. Thomas (tonsured) kneels: his hand guided by the risen Christ to His side. No other figures.

11. The Apostles. The Virgin in C. Christ's feet seen above in cloud.

12. The Apostles seated, the Virgin in C. Paul with sword, Peter with keys. The Dove descends. Flames over the Apostles' heads.

Another blank leaf follows.

Probably the earlier scenes of Christ's life were represented in pictures, now lost, which preceded Ps. i.

Dixit dominus. Decorative initial.

Ad dominum. Decorative.

Fifteen more initials from the Bible are pasted on to other leaves. All but one are taken from the Pauline Epistles, and represent Paul writing or addressing one or more persons. One is an initial I, probably from a Catholic Epistle, and represents an apostle with a book.

The next seven leaves are in two hands of cent. xv, xvi.
Festa palatii Apostolici 79
Modus et ordo seruatus in publicis sessionibus sacri concilii Constantiensis 80

At top of f. 81 in a xvth cent. hand is Nicolaus Riccardius.

There are fine decorative initials, mostly on gold grounds, throughout the book. The most considerable piece of ornament is on f. 15 b where a large border of conventional red, blue and green foliage on gold ground has been added, I think in cent. xvi, in a very coarse style. There is a historiated initial of a Bishop in cope and mitre kneeling in a church before an altar, on which are chalice and host. Behind him two surpliced clerks. In the lower margin a shield, within a wreath, and surmounted by a Cardinal's hat. The shield is or a bend dexter sable.

The book was written, I expect at Rome, for the trade, and purchased by the prelate who had this border and shield added.

1250. Norden's Speculum Britanniae. O. 4. 19

Paper, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$, ff. cir. 200. Cent. xvii early, well written. No old mark. (A. 61. No. 437.)

Libri Manuscripti.

The number of volumes on each page is written at the bottom. The total is 1215.

The catalogue of the manuscripts was printed by J. O. Halliwell for the Camden Society in 1842, with the Diary of Dr Dee (pp. 65–87).

There are a good many marginal notes by Dee throughout, showing to some extent what losses he sustained through the riots in his house at Mortlake.

Each volume has opposite to it, added later by Dee, the letter T, or Fr.

MS. Harley, 1879, is another autograph copy; and in MS. Add. 35213 is another catalogue, perhaps of earlier date, also written by Dee.

1252. Catena in Psalmos lxxiv–cl.

{ O. 4. 21
{ 5888

Paper, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 455, 36 lines to a page. Cent. xvii (1604), well written. In the original binding of red skin over wooden boards: clasps gone.

Marked G. 13. No. 299 (298). In quires of 8 leaves.

At the bottom of f. 1 of text is Ἐκ τῶν Μητροφανοῦς τοῦ Κριτοπούλου.

The colophon at end is

Ἐν ἀλεξανδρεία ἔτους ϙχδ σωτηρίου · ἰουνίου γ̄.

Metrophanes, afterwards Patriarch of Alexandria, was a protégé of Patrick Young.

Catena in Psalmos lxxiv–cl.

Εἰς τὸ τέλος μὴ διαφθείρῃς τω ἀσὰφ κ.τ.λ.
Εἴρηται καὶ οὗτος ὁ ψαλμὸς ἐκ προσώπου τῶν ἐν βαβυλῶνι δορυαλώτων.

1253. Evangelistarium Graece.

{ O. 4. 22
{ 6127

Vellum, $12\frac{1}{8} \times 8\frac{7}{8}$, ff. 250, double columns of 20 lines. Cent. xii, in a beautiful minuscule. Musical notes in red. Headings in gold capitals, initials in gold colours. Panel of ornament on f. 1 damaged, but in good style.

Marked A. 52.

Collation: A^{8}–ς'^{8} ζ^{6} η^{8}–$\kappa\beta^{8}$ $\kappa\gamma^{2}$ (wants 2) $\kappa\delta^{8}$–$\lambda\alpha^{8}$ $\lambda\beta^{4}$ (wants 4 blank).

It is No. 186 in Gregory, Proll. in N.T. Graec., p. 715, and 221 in Scrivener. It has been collated by the latter. No portion of text seems to be wanting: the missing leaf, if not merely cancelled, may have contained a picture of an Evangelist.

1254. Damascius. O. 4. 23

Paper, $12\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{4}$, pp. 861 written, mostly 20 lines to a page. Cent. xvii late, in a very clear hand.

Marked A. 49.

Laodamia Prothesilao 126
Ending imperfectly:
Et se tu faiz ce que je te prie.

The decoration of the book though imperfect is very good. The larger initials are of good ivy-leaf pattern and there are a certain number of paintings left, viz.:

1. f. 35 b. Comment Jason ala conq're la toyson dor.
Chequered ground: a ship in full sail filled with men: a red standard at the prow with a gold leopard's head.

2. f. 50 a. Red ground with gold pattern: Achilles and Patroclus in gowns received by the priest of Apollo (in blue robe covered with gold A's): attendant in scarlet. The temple is a double stone niche containing two gold statues of men with shields, standing on a pink base.

3. f. 54 a. The breadth of the page. Ground of dark blue foliage-work. The landing of the Greeks: they are in ships, with gangways thrown out to the land. On L. the gate of Troy. A great fight is going on.

4. f. 68 a. Breadth of page. Chequered ground. A battle scene: a dead Centaur with bow and arrow (le Roi Sentipus) lies in front.

5. f. 80 b. Breadth of page. Pink ground with gold pattern. The death of Hector. He stoops from his horse towards a crowned man in plate armour who lies dead. Achilles on horseback pierces him in the back.

6. f. 93 a. Breadth of page. Red ground with gold lines. In the temple of Apollo (a stone canopy on four pillars) Achilles and Antilochus defend themselves against a crowd of Trojans on R., several corpses lie in front of them. The image of Apollo is a gold warrior seated on a stool: he holds his shield up before his face.

7. f. 107 b. Breadth of page. Death of Polyxena. Chequered ground. In C. on a large oblong pink stone platform. Polyxena in scarlet kneels facing R. Her neck is wounded. Pyrrhus in plate armour is about to strike again. At each end stands a group of warriors.

1266. AETHICUS ETC. O. 4. 36. (37 in old list.)

Destroyed in 1880 in a fire at the house of Professor Theodor Mommsen, to whom it had been lent by the College.

It contained

Aethici Cosmiographia
Chronica Jordanis
Itinerarium Antonini

and was, as stated above under O. 4. 34, the second part of that volume. In Mommsen's edition of Jordanes (Mon. Germ. Antiquiss. IX.) it figures as an authority of the third class. Its symbol in that edition is X.

1267. BRODEAU ON OPPIAN ETC. { O. 4. 37 / 6137 } (36 in old list.)

Paper, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 8$, ff. cir. 60 written. Cent. xvi, in a fairly good hand, probably the author's autograph.

Marked A. 63.

Joannis Brodaei Turonensis in Oppiani Halieutica Annotationes.

The Cynegetica of Oppian, and Quintus Smyrnaeus and Coluthus, are mentioned on the title page: but the volume (which is not full) only contains notes on the Halieutica.

Additions—in the original hand—have been made frequently, by means of pasting slips on to the leaves.

The author, Jean Brodeau, died in 1563.

1268. CATALOGUE OF LORD LUMLEY'S LIBRARY. { O. 4. 38 / 6051

Paper, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$, ff. cir. 250. Cent. xvii early, beautifully written.

The Royal arms (of James I.) are stamped in gold on the covers, with a label of 3 points. Probably the book belonged to Henry Prince of Wales.

Marked H. 26. No. 340.

Catalogue of Lord Lumley's (?) Library.

There is no title: a title page which had been prepared is quite blank.

The books are arranged according to subject, and within that alphabetically and in sizes thus:

Theologi. A in folio—in 4^{to}—in 8^{vo}—in 16^{o}.

The last division is Musici.

Throughout, manuscripts are included, but are not kept separate from the printed books.

The volume is entered in all the manuscript catalogues of the Gale Collection as "Catal. Biblioth. Regiae in palatio S^{ti} Jacobi."

But an examination of the book has convinced me that the Library here catalogued is that of Lord Lumley (d. 1609), an excellent collection, of which far less is known.

In the first place it contains books which never were in the Royal Library, e.g.

"Biblia vetusta quondam Gundolphi Episcopi Roffensis manuscript," which is now in the Phillipps Collection at Cheltenham, no. 3504.

In the second place, mention of Lord Lumley's name occurs frequently, and in such a way as to show that he must have been the owner of the Library, e.g.

(Theologi in 16mo) Precatiunculae breues manuscript gathered by my Lorde Lumley for his vse.

(Historici in 8vo) John Philippes verses of newe yeares giftes giuen to my Lorde Lumley manuscript.

In the third place, the handwriting and arrangement of the catalogue closely resemble those of the small and comparatively useless catalogue of Lumley's books preserved in R. 14. 24. It seems to me that there are indications that O. 4. 38 is slightly the later in date.

In R. 14. 24 there are hardly any dates. In O. 4. 38 the latest date I have found is 1607.

The history of Lord Lumley's Library awaits a fuller investigation. It is usually said that Prince Henry purchased the whole: but it can be shown from this Catalogue that that assertion is incorrect. Moreover the Catalogue includes several MSS. now in the Cottonian collection, e.g. King Athelstan's Psalter, and the miscellaneous volume now called Tiberius B. V.

1283. ROMANCE OF GENERYDES. LYDGATE'S TROY BOOK ETC. } O. 5. 2

Vellum, $17\frac{3}{8} \times 12$, ff. 211, double columns of 50 and 48 lines. Cent. xv, in several good clear hands. Fine decorations of characteristic English style.

In the original binding of white skin over boards.

Marked A. 2.

On f. 190 b in a hand of cent. xvi early is: Antonius Thwaites me possidet: very carefully written. The name of Henry Thwaites is scribbled on f. 211 b.

On the margins of the leaves in many places shields are carefully emblazoned, and the fore-edges have also been painted with shields. This latter ornamentation (as Mr W. Aldis Wright points out in his Preface to Generydes, edited by him from this MS.) does not extend over the edges of the portion of the MS. which contains Generydes, though it has shields painted on the margins of its leaves. It is probable therefore that Generydes once formed a separate volume. I am unable to distinguish the writing of Generydes from that of the rest of the book.

As to the owners of these shields, Mr Wright says (after mentioning the occurrence of the name of Thwaites): "Anthony Thwaites may have been the son or descendant of John Thwaites of Hardingham, Norfolk, who married Anne, daughter of Sir William Knevet, and died 22 Hen. VII, leaving a son Anthony (Blomefield's Norfolk, v. 1198, folio ed.). The book has evidently been in the Thwaites and Knevet families, for their arms are found in various combinations on the margins; and as the Thwaites arms do not appear in the first part, which contains the story of Generydes, whereas the Knevet arms are of frequent occurrence, it is possible that this may have belonged originally to the Knevet family, and may have been bound up with the Lidgate portion after the above-mentioned marriage of John Thwaites with Anne Knevet. The other coats of arms I have been unable to trace with any certainty. To do so would involve a minute and curious, but certainly lengthy investigation, and is altogether foreign to the subject of this preface."

The ornament of the book apart from the pictures is remarkably fine. There is a great deal of most careful ivy-leaf ornament in the border, and the initials are excellent. Occasionally there are grotesques, monkeys, and dragons. It is unusual to find so sumptuous a copy of comparatively uncommon patristic tracts.

1289. EPISTOLAE PAULI GLOSSATAE. O. 5. 8

Vellum, 15 × 11, ff. 236, 25 lines of text and 50 of gloss to a full page. Cent. xii late, exquisitely written and finely ornamented.

Original binding brown skin over boards: two clasps mutilated.

From St Alban's. At the top of f. 2 in red, in a hand of cent. xiii, is:

Hic est liber Sancti Albani quem qui ei Abstulerit aut titulum Deleuerit Anathema sit. Amen.

On the same page in a bad xvith cent. hand pape cum eius autoritate abrenuntio Henricus Smyth.

The volume closely resembles the glossed Gospels from St Alban's in B. 5. 3.

Marked A. 8. (No. 8).

Collation: 1^8–25^8 26^8 (wants 4, 5) 27^8–29^8 30^8 (wants 7, 8).

The quires are usually numbered in Roman figures on the last leaf of each.

Contents:

Epistolae Pauli glosatae.

Prologue.

Principia rerum inquirenda sunt prius . . . . . f. 1
—Premittit autem salutationem dicens.

It is the gloss attributed to Peter Lombard.

The gloss on Romans begins on f. 1 b. The text on f. 2. The text is written in a magnificent round hand twice as large as that of the gloss. The names of the authorities are in red in the margin.

Initial to prologue, fine interlaced work, and panelled stalk.

Prol. to Rom. Half-length of Paul with book.

Rom. Exquisite interlaced work in the head. In head and stalk are medallions of a blue man fighting a red man, a fox and a bear, a blue animal addressing a crowd of smaller black ones, a dragon eating a snake (?), two mailed horsemen fighting, a blue man wrestling with a bear (?). The letter is on a ground of blue.

1 Cor. f. 60. Bolder design: good medallions of foliage in the stalk.

2 Cor. f. 102 b. The same artist as the last, a man piercing a blue beast.

Prol. to Gal. f. 127 b. Half-length of Paul with blank scroll.

Gal. Finest interlaced work, with white beasts. Ground of pale purplish blue.

Prol. to Eph. f. 148 b. Interlaced work and white beasts: rougher work.

Eph. Similar: the stalk formed by a large figure of a nude man with slate-coloured body and vermilion head.

Prol. to Phil. } f. 163 b. Similar to the last, but without the man's figure.
Phil. }

Prol. to Col. f. 173 b. As the last: a red dog from the stalk of the letter.

Col. Half-length of a white-bearded bishop in mitre cope and crozier blessing. Gold ground.

Prol. to 1 Thess. f. 183. Interlaced work.

1 Thess. Paul seated, writing in a book. The letter is gold, the ground within, red, without, lilac.

Prol. to 2 Thess. f. 190. Fine decorative work.

2 Thess. The stalk formed by a blue dog, head down, with dragon in mouth. In the head of the letter, gold branch-work on lilac ground: unusual and striking.

Prol. to 1 Tim. f. 194 b. Decorative: the stalk is a blue man with horses' hoofs.

1 Tim. Half-length of a Bishop in blue chasuble with crozier and black sash.

Initials to 2 Tim. gone.

Titus. f. 209 b. One initial serves for Prologue and text.

Philemon. f. 213. Half-length of Paul with scroll.

Heb. f. 214 b. Interlaced work, with small beasts, of the finest kind.

Ends imperfectly in Heb. x. 13: scabellum pedum eius.

1290. TRACTATUS NONNULLI MAIMONIDIS HEBRAICE. } O. 5. 9

Paper, $12\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{3}{8}$, pp. 312, 26 lines to a page. Cent. xvii, very well written: by Humfrey Wanley.

Marked A. 10.

Prefixed to the text are three papers:

1. Letter from Humfrey Wanley (Edmund Hall, Oxford, 7 Nov. 1695) to Dr Gale to say that he has finished the transcript, and asking for £2 more than the £4 agreed upon.
2. Receipt of Th. Bartlett (the Carrier), 15 Nov. 1695, for £4 to be conveyed to Wanley.
3. Letter from Jo. Mill, not dated. He is engaged in collating Proclus.

Πρόκλου εἰς τὸν τοῦ Πλάτωνος Παρμενίδην ὑπόμνημα.

There are two copies of the first leaf of text.

Εὔχομαι τοῖς θεοῖς πᾶσι καὶ πάσαις.

Book IV. ends p. 312: ἢ ἄλλῳ στοιχείῳ λαχόντι τὴν ὑπόστασιν.

The MS. from which this is copied is Bodl. Misc. Gr. 97 of cent. xv late.

1292. PROCLUS IN PARMENIDEM. O. 5. 11

Paper, $15\frac{3}{8} \times 10$, ff. 114, 30 lines to a page. Cent. xvii (1697), clearly written.

Marked A. 11.

Transcribed in 1697 from a Paris MS. Gr. 2099, ff. 131–251.

The Paris MS. from which this was copied is now numbered 1836 in the Fonds Grec, written in 1536 by Angelus Vergecius.

1293. Polychronicon Ranulphi. O. 5. 12

Vellum, $14\frac{7}{8} \times 10$, $34 + 148$, double columns of 51 lines. Cent. xvii, clearly written in two hands.

Old binding of white skin over boards: clasps gone.

Marked A. 12.

From Lichfield. On f. 1 are two notices, one badly the other neatly written, to the effect that in 1575 Antonius Diottus (Dyottus), son of John Dyott "senatoris celeberrimae ciuitatis Lich*feld*," read the book carefully through and annotated it.

And on the margin of f. 1 of text is a neat drawing of a roe lying under a battlemented wall. The roe is lettered Ro. ger. is outside the picture, and the wall is inscribed Walle.

The owner (and scribe?), Roger Walle, was prebendary of Eccleshale in Lichfield Cathedral in 1454 and archdeacon of Stafford, and in 1459 of Coventry. He wrote the MS. Vitellius A. x. (Statutes of Lichfield) and copies of Thomas of Elmham's Prose and Metrical Lives of Henry V. The former is MS. Arundel xv. at the College of Arms.

1328. COMMENTARY ON THE GOSPELS. O. 5. 47

Vellum, 14⅜ × 10, ff. 37, double columns of 37 lines. Cent. xii late, in a large upright hand.

There is no old mark.

The volume consists of fragments of several quires, too much mutilated to admit of satisfactory collation. A quire ends on f. 29 and is followed by one of 8 leaves. It is a part of a commentary on the Gospels, largely excerpted from the fathers, whose names are indicated in the margin. Gregory, Jerome, Augustine, Hilary are obvious. Other abbreviations of authors' names are N and R (Rabanus?). The Ammonian sections are written in the margins and the Gospel text given in full.

Contents:

Begins in Lib. iv.
quia tempus uisitationis sue attendere neglexerant. Sequitur post hec euangelista et dicit Iohannes autem cum audisset.
On f. 6 begins Lib. v. the initial and opening words of which have been cut out.

On f. 25 (xvi). Thomas Pettus owe this book Stauntoune.
Ends imperfectly in Lib. vi. in the section
Respondens autem Ihesus ait eis amen dico uobis si habueritis fidem et non hesitaueritis.

1329. Laws of Howel. O. 7. 1

Vellum, $6\frac{7}{8} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 68, 24 lines to a page. Cent. xiv early, well written. The front page much discoloured and to me illegible.

Marked C. 78. No. 210.

Collation: 1^8–4^8 5^6 6^8 (wants 8?) 7^8 (wants 4?) 8^8 9^8.

The catchwords are enclosed in rude pen drawings. 1, a peacock. 2, creature blowing a trumpet. 3, dragon, dart in mouth. 4, fish. 5, boar. 6, gone. 7, monster. 8, obscure.

Contents:

Dalimil's Chronicle of Bohemia.
In Bohemian.
The Revd. R. Sinker, D.D., Librarian, was the first to call the attention of a Bohemian scholar (the late Revd. A. H. Wratislaw, then Headmaster of King Edward's School, Bury St Edmunds) to this MS. The text of it was used in v. Jireček's edition of the chronicle (Prague, 1878: Rymovana Kronika Česká, etc.). The text of the MS. was again published by itself, with photographic facsimiles, by Dr Mourek (Prague, 1892: Kronika Dalimilova podle Rukopisu Cambridgeskeho).

The MS. contains about two-thirds of the whole text.
I am indebted to Dr Sinker's kindness for the above particulars.

1368. METAPHYSICA ARISTOTELIS ETC. { O. 7. 40 / 6049

Vellum, 6 × 4½, ff. 256 + 2, varying numbers of lines to a page. Cent. xiii, in several good hands.

Marked D. 10. No. 228. 2 fo. quod est propter quod.

On f. 1 at top is 'No. 552' in the xvith cent. hand which not unfrequently occurs.

The book evidently was once in a house of canons, probably Augustinian or Praemonstratensian.

In the Catalogue of St Augustine's, Canterbury, p. 109, there is mention of a volume which contained the Megacosmus of Bernard and also tracts de actionibus in iure civili, which may be this book.

Collation: 2 flyleaves. 1^8–4^8 5^{10} 6^{12} 7^{12} 8^4 | 9^8–13^8 14^{10} | 15^8–18^8 19^4 20^8 21^{10} 22^{10} | 23^8 24^8 25^4 26^8–28^8 | 29^8 30^{12} 31^8.

The flyleaves at the beginning are a bit of an account roll (xiii–xiv). On the outer side are payments made for fish etc., and no names occur.

On the inner side are three entries which may throw light on the source of the volume.

Je Joh^e hoze iii^d. De Rogero Godert (?) viii^d.....
De Joh^e Wyte vi^d (a hole in the parchment) De Will^o Suel...
De Canonicis iiis.
Ad festum omnium sanctorum. Rec(tor?) de luck pollard vjd. Idem de Sarre iijd.

Sarr is near Sandwich in Kent.

Contents:

Ends in Lib. v. 16 (quid est hoc mi lucili quod nos alio tendentes).

—si modo non institorem sed antistitem nactus est Vale. (Ep. 52.)

Note (xiii): In fine desunt epistole XXX. VIII.

f. 154 a is blank: on the verso some notes of an ethical nature in a good hand of cent. xiii. f. 155 is blank.

2. A tract on Civil Law without title 156

Inter summas philosophie species ars boni et equi tum propter dignitatem sui tum propter omnium communem utilitatem eleganter dicitur connumerari.

It consists largely of an explanation of Roman Law terms: at f. 17 b is a slight break after a chapter on actiones. The text continues on f. 176 b.

Quod autem prescriptione.

Another division ends with f. 182 b

Si qui sunt accusatores ubi dicit aperte discuti iuramento.

f. 183 a has notes in the same hand as before: definition of studium, and tempestas, letter of Pope John to Justinus Augustus etc.: 183 b is blank.

Another division begins on f. 184

Pactorum quedam in contractu bone fidei.

There is no break till f. 202, after a section which begins
Cum filius soluit pro patre aut est in potestate.
There are notes in two hands on f. 202: 202 b, 203 blank.
Inc. prologus Legum Romanarum 204

This ends unfinished or imperfect with f. 227.
Inuasio est aliene possessionis rerum immobilium uiolenta occupatio. Sit rapina.

IV. Cent. xiii, 30 lines to a page.
Moralium dogma philosophorum per multa dispersum uolumina uir optime et liberalis contrahere meditabar. (By Hildebert P. L. CLXXI. 1007.)
There are marginal notes in several hands, on religious matters.
Text ends on f. 241
Ante oculos uersemini iudicis cuncta cernentis.
On ff. 241 b–246 b the miscellaneous notes are continued.

V. Cent. xiii early, the first leaf in single lines 28 to a page, the rest with a narrow central column of about 28 lines, surrounded by comment in the same hand.
De multiplici iurisdictione nunc quasi tocius in partes nunc tanquam generis in species. Videtur enim quasi in totum diuidi ubi dicitur omne ius ex legibus constare et moribus 247
The text on f. 248 begins

Laus Christo Vivo
Petrus Ursuleus de Capua scripsit.

This scribe's name is not in Bradley's Dict. of Miniaturists. The miniatures, etc., are as follows:

1. Beatus vir f. 11. Border of amorini, birds, and gold leaf-ornament. There have been shields in the lower margin—now cut off. The style is excellent.

In the initial David with cusped nimbus kneels in landscape holding a triangular gold stringed instrument. In the background a tree by a river illustrating Ps. i.

2. Dominus illuminatio. Initial David in hat and crown holding the instrument as above points to his eye. Ground of lozenge cheques, gold, red, and blue.

3. Dixi custodiam. A very similar initial, rather smaller. David points to his mouth.

4. Dixit insipiens. The fool in a doublet half yellow, half brown: he holds a knotted stick, is bearded, and has a hat. Above on R. is the face of God in the sky. The fool is looking away from it and laughing.

5. Saluum me fac. David, nude except for a hat, kneeling in water over which a landscape has been coarsely painted. God's head above.

6. Exultate. David full-face plays on the triangular instrument. Three boys below play trumpet, harp, and viol.

7. Cantate. A crowd of white-robed clerks singing from a book on a wooden desk in two stages.

8. Dixit dominus. Christ with sceptre, the Father with gold orb, both seated.

9. Passio sec. Matheum. Almost half-page. Matthew seated at wooden desk, fitted with horns for black and red ink; he is writing in a book. An angel in air holds an open book for him.

10. Sec. Marcum. Mark at a similar desk writing on a scroll. Lion (winged) lies on R. guarding a book.

11. Sec. Lucam. Similar. Luke has a second book on a smaller desk. Winged ox lies on R. by a book.

12. Sec. Johannem. He is young and seated on a rocky island writing a long scroll. The eagle (more like a swallow) in air with open book on its back, and holding a scroll inscribed Aquila volans per medium celi.

The Litany is unusual. At the beginning is an alphabet of invocations to Christ, beginning Archangelorum eternitas, and ending Zelus et corona martyrum.

The patriarchs, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Melchisedec, follow the (3) archangels.

Moses, Aaron, Elias, Isaiah—Daniel, Samuel, Zacharias, John Baptist.

Confessors. Severus, Eleucadius, Gulielmus, Gaudentius, Rofillus, Mercurialis, Egidius et prophe*te*, Leonard, Paternian, Mauritius, Benedict, Maurus, Ilarus.

I conjecture from the entry of two Bishops of Naples in the Kalendar that the book was written for that diocese.

The confessors named above come from all parts of Italy.

Vellum and paper, $8\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$, ff. 193 + 5, 31 lines to a page. Cent. xv early, clearly written, with coarse ornament on f. 1.

Marked C. 17. No. 148.

Collation: the outermost and innermost sheets of each quire are of vellum. a^{14}–n^{14} o^{12} (11 canc.).

The three flyleaves at the beginning are fragments of an account roll of cent. xiv, xv. On one side, well written, are portions of an Irish rental. Among the names that occur are

1. Ballythormoth • Ballybrodyn • Mologhrath • Balyrothe •
   ...
   Henr. Adameson.
   Christopher de Holywode.

Firma ciuitatis Waterford.
Feodi firma Manerii de Dungaruan.
Firma ciuit. Cork.

Each paragraph ends with a statement of what is due to the King: "itaque domino Regi," "et sic Regi" etc.

On the other side in a rougher hand are some more accounts, viz.

Rentale Johannis Shordich.

Copenhanger doune.

Contents:

On f. 193*a* is a miracle of St Augustine of Canterbury.
De Decimis. In vita S. Aug. Anglorum Apostoli. In partibus comitatus Oxon' in uilla que nominatur Compton.

The flyleaves at end are a leaf of a xivth cent. MS. of the Decretals in double columns.

This copy of the Gesta corresponds in its commencement with Magd. Oxford 13, and in its ending with Harl. 2270. It is not noticed in Oesterley's edition of the Gesta (1872).

1389. ROGER BACON ETC. O. 8. 14

Vellum, $8\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 138+6, 34 lines to a page. Cent. xv, in a small current but clear hand. Initials in blue with flourishing in red.

Marked C. 31. No. 162. 2 fo. aqua et melle.

Collation: 3 flyleaves. 1^8–13^8 | 14^{10} (10 canc.) 15^8 16^8 17^8 (+8*). 3 flyleaves.

The flyleaves are partly accounts of cent. xv late. The fragment at the beginning chiefly relates to repairs of mills viz. Nywmille, Croford mylle, Cotecombe mylle. A millstone for the latter is bought at Bridgewater and carried to Weuelescombe.

The names of places in the fragment at end are mutilated, only —ngton and (Weu)elescombe survive.

The other flyleaves are probably from a book of formulae and consist of letters, some relating to the Council of Basle: the hand late xvth cent. At the top of f. 1 is an erased inscription.

On the flyleaf (xv) the name T. *Per*seuale.

The manor of Wiveliscombe belonged to the Cathedral of Wells, and it is possible that this book was once in the Library there.

Part of this volume is now Egerton MS. 847, formerly Halliwell 47. It is a vellum book, $7\frac{3}{4} \times 5$, ff. 159. Cent. xv, except ff. 1–13, which are of cent. xvi. The tracts now in the MS. are marked with an asterisk in the above list of contents. 2 fo. rustica.

The top half of f. 1 is cut off, and the old foliation erased throughout.

On f. 38 is the scribe's note:

quod W. de Hicchin.

Some part of the rest of the volume is, I believe, in Egerton MS. 824 (ff. 35, cent. xv, Halliwell, 58). The items in this are marked with a dagger in the table.

ending imperfectly f. 155.

In the Kalendar S. Eutrope, 30 Ap., is in gold, also S. Blaise (14 June), SS. Gervasi and Protais (19 June), La dedicace de Rouen (2 Oct.), S. Romain (23 Oct.).

The use is of Rouen. The Capitulum in Lauds. In omnibus requiem. Hymn, O gloriosa domina.

In the Litany. Apostles, Martial: Disciples, Ursin: Confessors, Mello, Evodus, Gildard, Medard, Laudus, Romanus, Audoen, Vedast, Sulpicius, Severus, Philibert: Virgins, Opportuna, Rosa, Columba, Honorina.

Borders: fair work: a partial border on every page, a full one on the pictured pages. Grotesques and occasionally subjects occur in the full borders which are divided into lozenges and other forms.

Miniatures: fairly good. In two cases the original pictures have gone and have been replaced by bad work of cent. xvi.

1. Sequences of Gospels, f. 1. The Evangelists in four compartments, each writing, and accompanied by his symbol.

Border. Man riding on horned beast: monkey.

2. Matins of the Virgin, f. 17. Annunciation (cent. xvi). The Father and Dove above.

3. Lauds. The Visitation. Joseph stands behind Mary and Elizabeth. Two small angels on L.

4. Prime. The Virgin and Joseph and an angel, with ox and ass, adore the Child.

5. Tierce. Two shepherds, a woman spinning. Angel in air with scroll.

6. Sext ("Medy"). The adoration of the Magi. Virgin and Child on R. Joseph not present.

7. None. The Presentation. The midwife Salome kneels with basket and candle. Joseph stands by. Simeon is mitred and coped.

8. Vespers. Flight into Egypt (to L.). In background on R. a soldier attacks the husbandman who is cutting his corn.

Border. A soldier killing a child. A mother lamenting over a dead child.

9. Compline. Coronation of the Virgin. She kneels to the Father in tiara and cope. Two angels in air crown her.

Border. Angels with harp and organ.

10. Hours of the Cross. Crucifixion (cent. xvi) with the Virgin and St John.

11. Hours of the Holy Ghost. Pentecost. The Virgin in the midst. The Dove above her head.

Border. A man in a gown kneeling.

12. Seven Psalms. David in prayer. Harp on a desk before him, crown on the ground. In air, the Father, and an angel with sword.

Border. Goliath with spear. David with sling, dog and sheep by him, an angel in air.

13. Office of the Dead. Burial. A shrouded corpse laid in the earth by two men. Three coped clerks are sprinkling the corpse. Acolyte with candle averts his face. Five mourners. In air, the soul received by an angel, a devil flying towards it.

Border. Death smiting a man in a tunic.

14. Verba mea. Initial. Clerks at desk, coffin with blue pall and group of mourners.

1394. Biblia Sacra. O. 8. 19

Vellum, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 436 + 2, double columns of 59 lines. Cent. xiii, in a good small hand. Remarkable initials.

Marked C. 12. No. 143. 2 fo. sophista.

Collation: 2 flyleaves. 1^{12}–14^{12} 15^{10} (wants 9, 10) | 16^{14} 17^{6} 18^{8} 19^{12}–30^{12} 31^{10} 32^{12}–37^{12} 38^{6}.

The contents and order are not quite normal.

Prologues as usual.
Gen.—2 Chron.
Ezra, Neh., Judith, Esther, Tobit, Job.
Psalms.
Prov.—Ecclus. Prayer of Solomon.
Isa.—Malachi.
1, 2 Macc.
Evv., Paul. Epp. (Laodiceans following Heb.).
Acts (without prologue), Cath. Epp., Apoc.
Interpr. nominum (Aaz—Zuzim).

Four blank leaves at end, on one the name (xv)

d. w. scheffeld.

The initials are very curious. No gold is employed. The favourite colours are green and white and pale yellow, though blue and pink and red also are employed. The artist is also fond of patterns of white dots.

The book, was, I expect, written in England or North France, and decorated in some outlying district where perhaps Scandinavian influence was felt.

The following initials are the most noteworthy.

Prologue. Decorative, with medallion of Priest at altar: crow on sheep's back: dragon.
Gen. Medallions in initial. Christ between angels: Christ with scales and compasses: divides land from water: holds sun and moon: creates birds and fish: creates beasts: creates man.
Exodus. Decorative.
Lev. Christ speaks to Moses, who has large horns.
Deut. Moses seated in the midst of a crowd.
Ruth. Curious colouring: lions.
2 Reg. Saul falls on his sword.
3 Reg. Very Celtic in appearance.
1 Par. Two lions upright, facing: between their legs a crowd of heads.
Neem. Man and lions.
Judith. Beheading Holofernes.
Job. Seated on a dunghill.
Ps. xxvi. Head of Bp in margin, in medallion.
Dixi. Head of King in margin, in medallion.
Dixit. Head of woman (?) in margin, in medallion.
Salvum. Peacock and erased head in margin, in medallion.
Exultate. Head of monk ,, ,, Cantate. Beardless head ,, ,,
Eccl. Head of Solomon in the midst of foliage.
Cant. Head of crowned Virgin.

Matt. Bearded bust in initial: column of five heads growing out of each other, outside.

Rom. Head of Paul. A similar curious large head appears in the initial to each Epistle (except Heb.).

Jac. Head of James, at bottom.

1 Pet. Head of Peter.

3 John, Jude, Apoc. have good grotesques.

1395. Legenda Aurea. O. 8. 20

Vellum, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 353 + flyleaves, double columns of 33 lines. Cent. xiv early, very well written.

Marked E. 13. No. 250. 2 fo. resurreccio or so matris.

On a flyleaf at the beginning is an inscription of cent. xv carefully erased liber ex dono venerabilis magistri johannis hamworth.

At the bottom of f. 1 a hand of cent. xvii, xviii has written "Memoriale Fratris Joannis de Dryton." This is a mistake for which an inscription in the University Library MS. Gg. 2. 18 is responsible. It also is a Golden Legend, and the name of the monk or friar who gave it to his monastery has been mistaken for the title by Tanner and others.

Collation: 1^4 2^{12} etc. the last a quire of 14 wanting 14: eleven flyleaves.

Contents:

Legenda Aurea Jacobi Januensis.
Table of Chapters . . . . . f. 1
De resurreccione domini Resurreccio Christi tercio die.
It is thus only the second half of the Legenda, beginning at Easter and ending with the chapter
De quadam uirgine antiochie, f. 351.
—Illi enim certauerunt hominibus, Iste deo. Hec Ambrosius, f. 353.
The verso has unimportant scribbles.

It is fortunately possible to point to the remaining portion of this MS. It is in the University Library Ee. 6. 31. The inscription identical with that in this volume is:

Liber domus sancti Edmundi ex dono venerabilis magistri Johannis hamworth.

The house to which both books belonged was, I believe, St Edmund's at Cambridge, a small Gilbertine establishment situated where Addenbrooke's Hospital now stands.

1396. EXEMPLA ETC. O. 8. 21

Paper and vellum, 8 × 6, ff. cir. 150. Cent. xvi and xiii and xv. Marked C. 15. 46. (146).

The book is mostly in a bad hand of cent. xvi or xvii, but has, inserted here and there, leaves of two or three vellum MSS.

On f. 1 in red is a list of contents

Exempla.
Infantia Saluatoris.
Opera Hugonis.
Lauacrum Conscientiae.
Philosophia.
Sompniale prophetae Danielis.

On f. 1 b notes.

Apocripha.

1. On the next four leaves are detached chapters (nos. 6, 7, 29, 30, 32–36) of a collection of Exempla. Then follows a table of contents. Then the beginning of the Collection.

Cap. 1. quam periculosum sit infringere votum siue fidem. Legitur in Vita S. Jacobi Apostoli.

After six leaves (much of which is lined through) follows a vellum leaf of cent. xiii, xiv, 30 lines to a page. Marked ff°. IIJ and containing cc. vii–ix of the Exempla. C. viii is from Bede, ix from Vitae patrum.

The hand of cent. xvi proceeds up to c. 37. Then follows c. 82. Quomodo Adam misit filium suum ad Paradisum. Post peccatum Adae (the History of the Cross).

After two leaves follows abruptly part of a version in English of St Gregory's Dialogues, and then the prologue to the same. Henrie Stile a Monck of Westminster to the Hon. Eliz. Parker Lady Morley.

Marg. Stanleie Lorde Darbies Sister my Lord Morleis mother.
Further portions of the Collection of Exempla in Latin follow in great confusion and intermingled with the version of the Dialogues. There occur the following portions of the vellum MS.
f. x, cc. xxv–xxvii.
ff. xvi, xvii, cc. xl–xliv.
ff. xxv–xxviii, cc. lxv–lxxvi.
ff. xlvi–xlvij, in a hand of cent. xv, containing cc. 81, 82 (the Story of the Cross).
ff. xxxvii, xxxviii (fragment of Barlaam and Josaphat).
Six leaves of cent. xvi early, from the version of the Dialogues, perhaps in Henry Style's own writing.

2. After some blank leaves follows
Infantia Saluatoris nostri.

It is the first Clementine Epitome.
Interrupted at f. 402 b by a sermon of Ephraem
Ἡ πίστις μήτηρ ἐστὶν παντὸς ἔργου ἀγαθοῦ.
Continued on f. 402 b, and ending seemingly unfinished. ff. 412, 413 ought, according to the scribe's note, to follow f. 429: while 414–429 directly follow 411.
I can find no proper ending to the text: the last words of f. 413 are in a speech of Faustinianus to Simon εἰ μή τι ἂν ὅτι πολλοὺς αὐτὸς δοξάζεις θεούς· θεοὺς δὲ πολλοὺς εἶναι. Epitome Clementina 132, Cotelier, Patr. Apost. I. 793.

1409. Astronomica. O. 8. 34

Vellum, $8\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 4 + 48 + 51 + 1. Cent. xiii early, in two very beautiful small Italian (?) hands.

Marked C. 34. No. 165.

Flyleaves: 4 at the beginning from a roughly written Civil Law MS. in double columns (cent. xiii) in English hand. One heading of a section is Repeticio magistri roberts de broucley super l. si de vi et possessione.

One at the end of cent. xiii, from an astrological book in double columns in English hand.

Collation: I. 1^6 2^8–5^8 (+ 2 betw. 2 and 3) 68.
II. 1^8–6^8 7? three left.

On one flyleaf is the name

Shyrwymir (?) xvi.

I. Consists entirely of Astronomical tables beautifully written with occasional diagrams. I have called the writing Italian: it may possibly be Spanish.

II. In a very similar hand: double columns of 47 lines.

Contents:

In nomine D. N. I. C.
Inc. liber in quo est maior introductorius Albumasar astrologi ad scientiam indiciorum astrorum et tractatus eius super eadem indicia. Cum disputacione racionali et auctentica et figure signorum atque nature. In nomine dei pii et misericordis . . f. 1
Laus deo qui creauit celum.
Eight tractatus remain. The latter part of the MS. has suffered severely from damp and the last two leaves are fragmentary and well-nigh illegible.

1410. MEDICA. O. 8. 35

Vellum, $8\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{7}{8}$, ff. 127 + 4, 22 lines to a page. Cent. xv late, clearly written.

Marked C. 37. No. 168.

The following inscription occurs several times with variation in date.

Henri. Dyngley anno $\overline{\text{xpi}}$ 1554 et anno Philippi et Marie primo et secundo vicesimo secundo die Marcii [at Adyngetoon in buckingegamshire].

On the flyleaves at the beginning are one or two receipts and also a table of Apothecaries' measures, and a rude sketch of a king with crown and sceptre and the legend Henricus vj. Rex Anglie.

Collation: 4 flyleaves. 1^8–11^8 (4 canc.) 12^8–16^8.

Contents:

1. Here begynneth a tretys of al manere of infirmitees of mannys body • bothe withinne as touchyng to phisyk and withoute as touching to surgerie from the crowne of the heed to the sool of the foot.    On f. 52 b is a section
   Ad discernendam urinam humanam.
   On f. 57 b begins (without special heading) a discourse of the influence of the heavenly bodies.
   On f. 69 b a section on the twelve signs in Latin.
   On f. 70 b a table of medicines in English.
   On 29 chapters ending f. 83.
   f. 84 blank.
2. Here folewen the Entraailes of man and medicynes also for certeyn parties of a mannys body 85
   The longe holdith the two ouer parties of the brest.
   Medicines begin on f. 87 b.
   From f. 112 to 120 the receipts are in Latin: English is resumed on f. 121, 2 where the text ends. On the last four leaves, originally blank, are receipts in English (xvi).

1411. ALCHEMICA. O. 8. 36

Paper, $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 131 + 7, 34 and more lines to a page. Cent. xvi early, in several hands.

Marked C. 22. No. 153.

On a flyleaf the name

Wyll^{m} Symon (xvi).

The occurrence of the name of S. Modwenna, f. 46, and of a Burton document, f. 130, shows that the book is from Burton Abbey.

Contents:

1413. BRUTE CHRONICLE ETC.

{ O. 9. 1
{ 6004, 5

Vellum, 12 × 8½, ff. 225 + 6, 36 lines to a page. Cent. xv, clearly written in several hands. Border of good English ornament and painting.

Marked I. 10. No. 354.
Collation: 1^8–13^8 (+ 1) 14^8–28^8 six flyleaves.

Contents:

I. 1. Notes on the seasons, Advent, Easter etc. . . . f. 1
Heruest hath III moneths.
Pardons.
Aue uerum corpus.
2. End of the Life of the Virgin (see post) . . . 1 b
3. Full border to page.
Here begynneth the blessed life of seint Kateryne the holy virgyne. Capitulo lxiiij^to^ 9
It does not agree with the Latin text of the Legenda Aurea ed. Graesse c. 172.
Ends: And it is conteigned in the Inuencion of the Crosse how maxcence was punysshed for this foly and for other.
4. In another hand, not so good.
Here begynneth þe lyfe of Seint James the Apostell . . 24 b
James the apostell James þe Soun of Sabade —and this pore man was delyuered. here endeth the life of Seint Jame.
From the Legenda Aurea.
5. Life of the Virgin from the Legenda Aurea.
The Purificacioun of our lady 30
The Annunciacioun of our lord 35
The Assumpcioun of our lady . . . . . 39 b
This is continued (from f. 48 b) on ff. 1 b–8 b where it ends.
II. The Brute Chronicle of England commonly called Caxton's Chronicle 49
A good border to f. 49.
Here begynneth a booke in englissh tonge called Brute etc.
Here begynneth the ffirst Chapiter.
Somtyme in the noble land of Surre.

The catchwords of the quires have grotesque and other ornaments: a crowned heart is not uncommon. There are handsome borders and initials to the divisions and at f. 102 is a page of paintings illustrating the Life of Edward the Confessor in six narrow and tall compartments. The style is excellent, but the paintings have been a good deal rubbed.

1. King Edward crowned: his arms on the canopy behind him: on either side three Bishops.

2. He gives the ring to the beggar (St John). Pink ground with gold pattern.

3. a. He kneels bareheaded under a canopy with his arms: a scroll before him on a desk: he smiles and looks surprised. On R. a Priest at altar elevates the Host.

b. Three ships full of warriors in plate armour: the King of Denmark falls into the sea out of a boat.

4. Edward and another kneel. A Priest on R. elevating the Host, in which is the figure of Christ nude blessing.

5. Green ground with gold ornament.

St John bearded gives the ring to two kneeling pilgrims.

6. The King at table between two Bishops. The two pilgrims kneel on the near side of the table, and one gives Edward the ring.

At f. 201 (A.D. 1422):

Nomina maiorum et Vicecomitum London. temp. Regis Henrici Sexti etc.
The original hand ends with the events of the 23rd of Henr. VI.
—for a fynall pees (225 b).
It then adds the Mayors and Sheriff for 24 Hen. VI. (1445).
The remainder of 225 b and 226 a blank.
On 226 b a later hand adds the record of 1446.

On the flyleaves at end are 3 pages of very badly written notes containing sayings of various Saints on the Sacrament of the Altar in English. At the end is the date 1551, but this seems later than the writing.

Then follows a note on the Pardon of Corpus Christi.

Lastly, occupying $2\frac{1}{2}$ pages, well written, an Indenture in English between "Walter Lokington and John Cokerych Wardenis of the fraternite or gelde of the Assumpcion of oure ladye Seint Marie in the Churche of Seint Margarete within the close of Seint Peter of Westminster and the Brederne and Sustern of the same ffraternite or gilde on the oon partie and James Fytt Citezin and Taylour of London on the other partie" leasing to him certain lands in the parish of St Mary Aldermary.

Dated 26 Dec. 17 Edward IV.

The beginning of a late deed of Will. Barret of Sholton in Staffordshire on the verso.

The book evidently belonged to some person connected with the Guild of the Assumption in St Margaret's Westminster.

Marked I. 9. No. 353.

Contents:

Liber de Arte memoratiua siue notoria.
Written by Simon Forman. On p. 106 is the colophon finis orationum per Simonem Forman 1600, 28 Junii hora p.m. at 8.
Begins:
Prol. In nomine s. trinitatis et indiuidue unitatis et in principio operationis istius sacratissimae artis notorie inuocato nomine altissimi creatoris etc. . . . . f. 1

Prologus per Sallomonem 3
In nomine Sancte et Indiuid. Trinitatis.

Inc. sanctissima Ars notoria quam Creator altissimus per Angelum suum super altare templi quodam modo Salomoni dum oraret ministrans.

The greater part of the book consists of prayers which are usually collections of Hebrew or Greek names, or imitations thereof; e.g. p. 52:

Elystemaht hacaram hemel Sadoc Ghesu heloy Camaraz Coma Jetromaym Theos Deus pie et fortis hamathaz al Jecronamay etc.

The rubrics are often in English. An Index of the Prayers follows the text.

In his diary for 1600, Forman mentions that he had copied the two books of Apollonius Niger de Arte Memoratus (see Dict. Nat. Biog.). Probably this MS. is the copy he refers to.

Marked B. 27. No. 93. 2 fo. qua uacatur.

A few marginal notes in red of cent. xvi early.

On a paper flyleaf at end in xviith cent. pencil is the name of Thomas Comber.

Flyleaves from a large Bible in double columns (late xiii) containing part of Job.

Collation: 1^{12}–11^{12} 12^{2}.

Title in red capitals: the second line in blue has almost entirely gone.

Contents:

In nomine sancte Trinitatis et indiuidue | unitatis Incipit beatus Augustinus... | De concordia euangelistarum . . . . . f. 1
Inter omnes diuinas auctoritates (P. L. XXXIV. 1143).

Liber IV ends f. 144 (134):
apud eum discipulis pedes Lauat.
The verso is blank.

The book may be from Canterbury or Rochester (Edwards, p. 123). The name of Thomas Comber suggests a connexion with Durham, of which Comber was Dean, but I do not find the book in the old Catalogues.

1428. HIPPIATRICA. O. 9. 16

Paper, 10 × 8, ff. 124. Cent. xvii, well written.

or Si est penes te.

Flyleaves from a very minutely written xiiith cent. MS. of a Commentary on Aristotle (?).

There is a good deal in the contents which suggests a North French or Flemish origin for the MS.

Collation: 1 flyleaf. $1^{?10}$ (wants 1–3) 2^{12}–5^{12} 6^{14} 7^{12}–10^{12} 11^{8} (wants 1) 12^{12} 13^{4} (wants 4). 1 flyleaf.

Contents:

f. 1 a is covered with scribbles, e.g.
God grant me gras to gehte agayn y^e^ luffe y^t^ I haue loste.
On 1 b an original table of contents.

1. Inc. Capitula Libri Enchiridion B. Augustini ad Laurentium Primicerium eccl. Urbice de fide et spe et caritate . f. 2 cxxv Capitula ending f. 5 a (P. L. XL. 231).
Finiunt Capitula.
On f. 5 b a drawing occupying $\frac{2}{3}$rds of the space for text. In two tiers. Above Christ seated in vesica, on rainbow, with book resting against his L. arm, sceptre in L. hand, blessing.
On L. and R. angels swinging censers. Below the feet of the one on R. is a prostrate man with crosier, adoring.
Below, Augustine throned, with crosier, blessing.
On L. Michael thrusting a spear down the dragon's throat. On R. a prostrate man with curved staff: on his back walks another with Tau-headed staff.
The only colours used are pale red and green, the work rough.
Title in capitals, red and green.

Inc. liber Enchiridion B. Aug. ad Laurentium.

On f. 6*a* a large initial D of conventional foliage containing lions, dragons and birds. The branch-work of which it consists is mostly white on green, red and blue grounds. The ground outside is purple.

The first words of the Enchiridion, Dici non potest dilectissime fili Laurenti, are in coloured capitals.

On the lower margin in large letters (xiii, xiv) is the title Encheridion.

Ends f. 42*b*

6. Inc. Epistola Alcuini ad Widonem comitem . . . 57
Dilectissimo filio Guidoni Comiti (P. L. CI. 613).
Initial occupying half the page of the same style as that of No. 1. The surrounding ground is yellow-brown in this case and the execution is rather better.
There is a ruder initial to the text on f. 57*b*.
Ends f. 72*b*: pandere dignus efficietur.
Finit liber.

7. Inc. liber S. Ambrosii ad Vercellensem ecclesiam de morte Eusebii Ep. et martiris (P. L. XVI. 1189) . . . 73
Ambrosius seruus Christi.
A strange initial almost full-page of white leaf- and branch-work on blue, red and yellow grounds: rather coarsely done.
Ends f. 90*b*: sine heresis temulentia.
Finit ad Vercellensem aecclesiam.

8. Cur missa celebretur et quid significent que in ea canuntur (so the title in the original Table) 90*b*

1439. HESIOD.

{ O. 9. 27
{ 5963

Vellum, $10\frac{5}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 62 + 1, about 30 lines to a page. Cent. xiii, xiv in two hands: partly palimpsest: lines not ruled.

Marked I. 25. No. 368.

Collation: 1 flyleaf. 1^8-3^8 (wants 1) 4^8 5^8 (wants 8) 6^8 7^8.

On the flyleaf are scribbles in the hand of the principal scribe.

Also a xvth cent. title in Italian hand:

hesiodus cum comento in pergameno.

A letter or note very obscurely written, beginning

Ego Stefanus Grecus.

It apparently does not refer to this MS.

On f. 1 at bottom

Liber D. Grimani Car^{lis} S. Marci.

A band of ornament at top with a lion and dragon above.

Contents:

'Ιωάννου γραμματικοῦ τοῦ Τζέτζου ἐξήγησις τῆς βίβλου τῶν ἔργων καὶ ἡμερῶν 'Ησιόδου.

στίχοι 'Ιαμβικοὶ δωρικοὶ πρὸς πρόκλον τὸν προὐξηγησάμενον τὸν ἡσίοδον κ.τ.λ.

ff. 2 b, 3 a are a good deal stained with galls.

The text of Hesiod begins on f. 5 b with a large red initial. It is in a larger hand than the comment, with which it alternates, a few lines at a time. There are interlinear glosses.

f. 15 b is badly stained with galls.

The second hand appears first on f. 22 b; it is rather better than the first.

The first hand reappears at f. 32, the whole of quire 5 is written by it.

This quire is palimpsest. The older writing (not, I think, very much older) is in double columns of 39 lines: a small hand. The matter is probably Biblical or Christian; I seem to read the word $\overline{\chi\upsilon}$ for Χριστοῦ on 38 b.

The second hand reappears at f. 39 and continues to the end.

The text is incomplete, ending f. 62 b with l. 760.

ὦδ ἔρδειν δεινὴν δὲ βροτῶν ὑπαλεύεο φήμην.

The comment ends

μωμοσκοπεῖ τὰ μυστηρια (?).

The MS. was first collated by Dobree for Gaisford, and last by F. A. Paley for his edition (1883). Mr Paley set a very high value on the text: in his opinion it is perhaps the best copy of the Works and Days in existence. He gives a facsimile of a very neat drawing of the plough and other agricultural implements which occurs on f. 43 b. As to the date he says that it is "apparently of the early part of the xivth cent., perhaps older. It contains, however, the writing of several hands, and the first part, to v. 256, is probably of saec. xiii." I only distinguish two hands, which must be contemporary, since the second is found on the same leaf as the first.

1446. Romance of Alexander. O. 9. 34

Vellum, $11\frac{1}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 46, double columns of 46 lines. Cent. xiii (1250) in a good clear hand (English), with a large number of excellent drawings.

Marked H. 12. No. 326.

Collation: quires gone at beginning. 1^8 2^8 (wants 3, 6) 3^8 quire or quires gone, 4^8 (wants 8) 5^8 (wants 1, 2, 4, 5, 8) 6^8 (marked xj) 7^8 (marked xij: wants 4, 5).

On the last leaf is a drawing, xv, xvi, of a dragon with scroll a tort ieo suis (?).

The volume is illustrated by 152 pictures in fine outline, lightly washed with colours, green, red and blue—green being perhaps the most conspicuous. The work is excellent: and the style of both drawing, colouring and writing inclines me to hazard the conjecture that the birthplace of the volume was St Alban's Abbey.

The frames of the drawings are edged (alternately, roughly speaking) with green and pink.

Contents:

The Romance of Alexander, in French verse, by Eustache (or Thomas) of Kent.

The following paragraphs are epitomized from a MS. account by M. Paul Meyer drawn up in 1871.

Two other MSS. of this poem are known.

1. The only complete copy, formerly in the Library of the Duc de la Vallière (no. 2702), now Bibl. Nat. Fonds de la Vallière 45.

On this see Legrand d'Aussy, Notices et Extraits, v. 121. Weber, Metrical Romances, I. xxv, copies him.

This MS. closely resembles ours in the writing and the miniatures.

2. Durham Cathedral Library, C. IV. 27 B, without miniatures: mutilated. See P. Meyer in Archives des Missions, 1867.

The poem is partly original and partly copied from the Roman d'Alexandre of Lambert le Tort and Alexander of Bernay (ed. Michelant, Stuttgart, 1846). Speaking broadly, ff. 1–7, 39 (col. 4)—46, of this MS. represent the borrowed portions.

The author of the poem in this MS. calls himself Eustache: in the Paris MS. the reading is Thomas. The Durham MS. has a lacuna at the point.

To these remarks of M. Meyer I add the following notes.

The portions of text preserved in this copy are

Vritham et virginitatis et ma(rtirii) etc.
This conveys new knowledge about St Urith to whom the Church of Chittlehampton is dedicated. Camden in the Britannia calls her a woman-saint. Later writers have imagined her to be a man. The Oratio implies that, like St Sidwell of Exeter, she was hated by her stepmother and beheaded by haymakers. See a paper by the present writer in Camb. Ant. Soc. Proceedings for 1901–2.

1503.

Paper, 8 × 6, pp. 230 of text. Cent. xvii, very well written.

Given by W. Aldis Wright, M.A., Vice-Master, in 1901.

It contains the armorial book-plate of John Clarke. A note by Mr James Crossley says:

This came from the Collection of William Longueville of the Inner Temple, the famous conveyancer in the time of Charles and James the 2nd, the friend and patron of Butler, the author of Hudibras, who was for some time an amanuensis of Selden. His son Charles Longueville left his Manuscripts and Law Library to John Clarke, whose coat of arms is on the opposite page.

A note by J. E. Bailey adds

This was Lot 3879 in the sale catalogue of Mr James Crossley, sold in London, June 1885.

Mr Wright notes, however, that Lot 3879 is described in the Catalogue as 2 vols. 4to.

The Discourse of John Selden, Esq., or his sense of various matters of weight and high consequence Relating especially to Religion and State.

Distingue tempora.

Given by W. Aldis Wright, M.A., Vice-Master, in 1901.

It belonged in 1837 to J. Lee of Doctors' Commons, who purchased it in that year from Rodd for £1. 5*s*.

It contains copies of certain Pythagorean fragments in Stobaeus, viz. by Archytas, Theages, Diotogenes, Sthenidas, Lephantus, and a few other fragments with corrections by Brunck.

Paper, $15 \times 9\frac{5}{8}$, pp. 397 written. Cent. xviii early, well written.

Given by W. Aldis Wright, M.A., Vice-Master, in 1901. He purchased it of Wm Downing in 1896. It was in the Phillipps Collection, no. 13955 (Phillipps sale, June 11, 1896, lot 283). On the back are the initials R.K. and the date 1712.

Mr Wright notes that

> This volume contains a transcript of the MS. of Robert of Gloucester's Chronicle in the Bodleian Library Oxford, Digby, 205. It is probably the same as that which is mentioned by Hearne in the Preface to his edition of the Chronicle (p. x) as having been made at the charges of his "late ingenious and learned Friend Robert Keck Esq. (who was formerly Gentleman Commoner of University College, and died in the year 1719)."

The mark Roehampton Z. 2 is on the flyleaf.

The text ends on p. 395. On p. 397 is a note of the transcriber as to certain doubtful or difficult points in the MS.

In the same Class are kept the following:

Manuscript and printed works of C. W. King, M.A., late Fellow, in 37 volumes.

The Old Testament in English, in 7 volumes, with the corrections of F. Field, D.D., late Fellow, and Canon of Norwich; being the copy used by him as a Member of the Committee for the Revised Version.

A collection of letters of Thomas Carlyle to Edward Fitzgerald, relating to Naseby. Given by W. Aldis Wright, M.A., Vice-Master, in 1901.

The Correspondence of Dawson Turner in 82 volumes, extending from 1790 to 1851. The seals of the envelopes are mounted at the end of each volume, and there are careful Indexes.

Bequeathed in 1890 by Eleanor Jane Jacobson, daughter of Dawson Turner, and widow of the late Dr Jacobson, Bishop of Chester.

The Accounts of King's Hall, in 26 volumes, extending from 1326 to 1540.
